McCarthy May Ask Truman To Testify At New A-Spy Probe

List Of 150 Suspects Allegedly Given HST

WASHINGTON, June 29 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) said today he may invite former President Harry S. Truman to testify in a new investigation of Americans suspected of atomic spying for Soviet Russia.

McCarthy said he wants to know whether Truman turned over to the Justice Department a list of 150 American citizens alleged to have been involved in the sensational Canadian spy case of the 1940s.

Alfred Kohlberg, New York importer and publisher, reported in mid-1950 that such a secret list had been given to Truman personally in 1945 by then Canadian Prime Minister Mackenzie King. In an open letter, Kohlberg said not one arrest had resulted in the intervening five years.

Will Check With Justice Dept.

McCarthy said he will first ask the Justice Department if it received the list from Truman. If not, he said, he will ask his Senate investigations subcommittee for permission to invite Truman to testify.

"I don't think it would be necessary to subpoena Mr. Truman," McCarthy added. "I hope it isn't."

In New York, Truman smiled when told of McCarthy's statement and said:

"What I could tell you, you wouldn't print.

"Therefore, I say no comment."

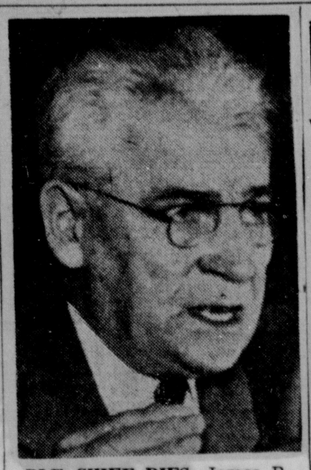

McCarthy did not indicate why he decided to investigate the alleged link of Americans to the Red spy ring in Canada at this time.

Letter Sent To Buchanan

Kohlberg's 1950 letter was addressed to Rep. Buchanan (D-Pa), who then headed a House subcommittee investigating lobbying. It suggested that the subcommittee look into the matter of the reported spy list.

Kohlberg, long an active supporter of the Chinese Nationalist government, acknowledged early in 1950 that he had been supplying McCarthy data in connection with McCarthy's Communists - in - government charges.

The Canadian spy ring was cracked in 1945 when Igor Guozenko, a code clerk, became fed up with communism and fled the Soviet Embassy with secret documents.

ROKs Fall Back Under Pressure Of 12,000 Reds

SEOUL, Tuesday, June 30 (AP)—The battered but unbeaten South Korean infantry fell back yesterday from four hills north of Seoul under the relentless pressure of 12,000 attacking Chinese Reds and one of the greatest Communist barrages of the war.

The South Koreans also were thrown back on the Eastern Front, where forward elements of six Chinese divisions are on the attack along the valley of the Pukhan River. The Koreans were forced off Lookout Mountain just west of the river under the crushing weight of Red artillery fire.

Only in the air could the Allies find victory. Sabre pilots reported they shot down six MIGs who tried to stop Sabre fighter-bombers from a plastering raid on Namsi, near the Yalu River. Sabres thus ran their month's score to 59 MIGs, only four short of the record set in September of 1952.

Corps officers said the weight of about 12,000 Chinese and an artillery barrage just short of a Korean War record forced the decision to break off the action and let the Chinese take over four fiercely contested hills west of Yonchon some 40 miles north of Seoul.

The Republic of Korea 1st division began pulling back on order at noon yesterday and by 4 p.m. had conceded the hills known as Queen, Bak, Betty and one unnamed height.

Four other hills which the Chinese had attacked still were in ROK hands.

The orders were presumably given by Lt. Gen. Bruce E. Clark, U. S. Corps commander. He was on the spot and was caught in a bunker by a 1,200-round Red artillery concentration that smashed his helicopter parked nearby.

Corps analysts said that since last Thursday the Reds had fed five or more regiments, or more than 15,000 men, into the eight-hill line held by the ROKs northwest of Yonchon.

SEOUL, Tuesday, June 30 (AP)—A U. S. Navy pilot last night shot down two Communist light planes 50 miles south of Seoul, the Fifth Air Force reported today.

It was the southernmost penetration by Red planes in months and perhaps their deepest probe of the war into Allied territory.

Reds Open Food Larders To Quiet German Unrest

BERLIN, June 29 (AP)—Communists threw open long-hoarded supplies of food today to quiet the rumblings of new unrest among the sullen East German workers whose rebellion June 17 brought Soviet martial law.

Despite the stern measures enforced by Red Army troops and armor ever since they quelled the rebellion, there were several attempted demonstrations for more food late last week.

Communist bosses moved swiftly, however, and today the Red press claimed they had whipped the food crisis.

Public larders were opened and food reserves long denied the hungry workers were distributed. Food stocks were rushed in to critical areas. Imports from other Soviet satellites were increased.

Everywhere throughout the riot-shaken Soviet zone the embers of revolt appeared dying. The 300,000 man Russian Army seemed in complete control.

Western military experts today admitted they were impressed — and a bit alarmed — at the efficient way the Soviet troops had smashed the widespread attack by two million rioting strikers.

The Red Army's performance convinced many of these experts that the West can no longer discount the Soviet Army in East Germany as a soft occupation force incapable of launching a sudden and effective attack westward.

Military men were particularly impressed by the discipline of the Red troops in the face of charging rioters, and the speed with which they moved into riot centers with full pack from distant training grounds.

Although scores of strikers were killed, most of them were reported shot by over-excited German Communist police, while the Russians fired mostly over rioters' heads—or waited until they got the alleged riot leaders in front of firing squads. At least 32 of the dead were formally executed after drumhead court martials.

8 Million Drought Fund Approved

WASHINGTON, June 29 (AP)—President Eisenhower today approved an eight million dollar emergency relief allocation to aid drought - stricken stockmen and farmers in Texas and Oklahoma.

The White House announcement said the aid would go to 152 counties in Texas and 40 in Oklahoma but did not list them. This list was expected to come in the formal announcement of the allocation tomorrow and the designation of the counties as disaster areas.

Earlier today, 13 senators introduced a bill in Congress designed to make certain that the government has the money and power to meet disasters such as the Southwest drought, where crops and livestock are endangered.

The legislation would authorize government loans to farmers and stockmen at 4 per cent interest. It also would provide for federal purchase of feed and other supplies for resale to farmers.

Ban On Use Of Water Eased In Baltimore

BALTIMORE, June 29 (AP)—A ban on the use of water has been eased in Baltimore.

After two weeks of dry weather, the city imposed a ban on using water for such things as lawn sprinkling and auto washing.

Starting tomorrow, City Water Engineer J. S. Strohmeyer said the ban would only be in force only between 4 and 10 p.m.

Ike's World War II Escort Now Runs House Elevator

WASHINGTON, June 29 (AP)—The man who preceded Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower during much of World War II is back in the business of escorting dignitaries. Al Salem has signed on as an elevator operator in the House of Representative.

Salem fought the war on a motorcycle, first in England and then in France, escorting generals, movie actors, the King and Queen of England and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. Topping his list was Eisenhower.

"I don't know how many times we escorted Eisenhower," Salem said today. "But were on the go all the time. We wore out two motorcycles a year."

Most generals didn't pay much attention to the dark, lively eyed staff sergeant on the motorcycle ahead.

"But Gen. Eisenhower," Salem said, "always came up after every trip to shake our hands and thank us. He seemed more interested in us than in those stars on his shoulder."

Salem, now 31, stayed in England after the war, sold suits and married an English girl. He didn't come back to Johnstown, Pa., until 1950.

Always an ardent Republican, he pitched into the campaign with great enthusiasm when Eisenhower was nominated. The peak was reached, for Salem, when Eisenhower visited Johnstown, and Salem rode the motorcycle leading the parade, just like old times.

A couple of months ago, his house burned, and with his wife and two children, he came to Washington. The elevator job is temporary, and he hopes to catch on with a House committee, or possibly get a job abroad.

If Eisenhower is Salem's hero, Mrs. Roosevelt is his heroine.

"I escorted her for three days, and I don't care if she is a Democrat, she's still a great lady," he said.

Backstage Battle On Tax Bill Won By Eisenhower Forces

Effort To Bypass Ways And Means Group Called Off

Committee To Bring Measure To Floor

WASHINGTON, June 29 (AP)—Eisenhower forces today probed the way for victory in the President's battle to extend the excess profits tax, sidestepping a bruising House floor fight in the process.

In tense, unprecedented backstage maneuvers, the administration won assurances that the previously rebellious House Ways and Means Committee finally would bring a tax extension bill to the House floor.

With those assurances, House leaders dramatically called off, literally at the last minute, an effort to bypass the tax-writing committee and force a bitter floor showdown.

Close Fight Avoided

The upshot was twofold:

1. The administration avoided what was shaping up as a close and spectacular floor fight over the bypassing procedure—a fight sure to leave gaping wounds in party harmony.

2. It still seemed certain to get what it wants—extension of the tax. Leaders on both sides have conceded the tax extension will skim through Congress once it reaches the House floor, regardless of how it gets there.

The settlement was assured only one day before the tax expires. But the levy, which ranges up to 82 per cent on corporation profits above those earned in past periods, can be renewed retroactively.

Few Firms Affected

It affects relatively few firms, but Eisenhower urged a six-month extension to raise an estimated 800 million dollars and help reduce the federal deficit and fight inflation.

Ways and Means Committee members said the backstage settlement called for a meeting of the group at least by next week. Then, in the face of still unyielding opposition to the tax by Chairman Reed (R-NY), a member of the group is expected to move that the profits bill be taken up.

House leaders said emphatically they have ironclad assurances that a majority of the committee will support the move and bring a bill to the floor.

Reed Calls Meeting July 8

Reed in effect confirmed the situation by calling a meeting of his committee July 8—with a broad tax revision program on the agenda. Previously he had called off all committee meetings to prevent any action on the profits tax.

The break came dramatically, as a packed House convened expecting a scrap to the bitter end over bypassing Reed's committee. The full House had to approve the drastic procedure by which the administration brought the issue to the floor via the House Rules Committee. GOP leaders said they were confident the administration would win—but it was hairline close.

Arthur Godfrey Flown To Home

LEESBURG, Va., June 29 (AP)—Arthur Godfrey landed at this Northern Virginia town late today after an unannounced flight from Boston. He went immediately to his 350-acre country estate in neighboring Loudoun County.

"He is very tired from the trip, but otherwise doing fine," said Mrs. Godfrey, who met her husband at the airport.

She said he would convalesce at his home, Beacon Hill Farm, for several weeks. His nurse was reported to have made the flight with him on the plane, owned by Godfrey and piloted by Frank Lavigna, his personal pilot.

Godfrey underwent a hip operation in Boston last month and had been hospitalized there ever since.

Mail Clerk Charged With Theft Of Letters

BALTIMORE, June 29 (AP)—Grover C. Adams, Jr., 31-year-old substitute mail clerk at Crisfield, Md., was released today in $1,000 bail for Federal grand jury action on a charge of stealing letters from the mails.

James B. Murphy, assistant U. S. attorney here, said the regularity of the thefts—which occurred usually on a Sunday—prompted inspector to concentrate their probe on that day.

Keenan Wynn's Wife Granted Divorce

Treason Charge Fired At Douglas By Rep. Wheeler

WASHINGTON, June 29 (AP)—Rep. Wheeler (D-GA) today accused Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas of treason as part of six specific grounds for impeachment.

Wheeler took the House floor for an hour's discussion of his resolution to impeach Douglas for "high crimes and misdemeanors" as an aftermath to Douglas' stay of execution to atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg.

The full court vacated the stay, although the majority stressed the opinion that Douglas acted within his authority in granting it. The Rosenbergs were executed a few hours afterward, on June 19.

In advance of House committee hearings tomorrow, Wheeler declared he was not basing his impeachment action on any question of Douglas' authority. The justice's action in the Rosenberg case, he said, only served "to accentuate a conclusion I had reached" as to his "general unfitness."

Wheeler said the "strange and unprecedented decision" by Douglas made him wonder "whether he is a knave or a fool," and added that he did not consider Douglas a fool.

"Therefore, I am forced to conclude he is a knave unworthy of the high position he holds," he declared.

Wheeler listed the following specifications to support his charges of high crimes and misdemeanors warranting impeachment:

1. Conduct unbecoming an associate justice of the court.
2. Action tending to bring the court into disrepute.
3. Public statements by Douglas prejudging cases.
4. Moral turpitude.
5. Conspiracy.
6. Treason.

On the score of moral turpitude, Wheeler asked the House to subpoena records of a divorce case in Portland, Ore., in which he said Douglas figured.

He said the case involved "the divorce of Assistant Secretary of the Interior C. Girard Davidson from his wife, Mercedes Davidson, with Mr. Justice Douglas reportedly named as corespondent."

Davidson, now a Portland attorney, called Wheeler's statement "completely untrue." His wife, Mercedes, divorced him on Jan. 23, 1952 on grounds of incompatability. Davidson did not contest the action, and the court reporter said Justice Douglas's name was not mentioned at the hearing.

Polio Rate In U. S. At Record Level, U. N. Unit Reports

GENEVA, Switzerland, June 29 (AP)—This year's poliomyelitis rate in the United States is running at a level nearly 17 per cent above the all-time record rate recorded last year, the United Nations World Health Organization reported today.

The organization's weekly epidemiological bulletin said 3,124 polio cases were reported in the United States between Jan. 1 and June 13 of this year, compared with 2,678 cases in the same period of last year. During the whole of last year, there were 57,244 cases of the disease in the United States, more than double the 1951 total and more than ever recorded in any single year.

USSR "Slipping," Wiley Declares

WASHINGTON, June 29 (AP)—Sen. Wiley (R-Wis) told the Senate today Russia's control over its satellites is already beginning to crumble and he predicted that Red China may be next to turn against the Kremlin.

"The powder keg of subjugated peoples could blow sky-high overnight," he said.

The Wisconsin senator, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, made the statement in urging the Senate to approve an administration-sponsored bill authorizing $5,318,000,000 in foreign aid.

Following Wiley's lead-off speech, Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) told the Senate he hoped the measure would be approved without substantial change as "a vote of confidence" in President Eisenhower's foreign policy.

Sen. Knowland of California, acting GOP floor leader, asked the Senate to be ready for a vote on the bill tomorrow evening.

Wiley said the Eisenhower administration will be "hard boiled" about spending the money because it will take an average of $39 out of every American's pocket.

Meeting Of Big 3 Foreign Policy Chiefs Proposed

WASHINGTON, June 29 (AP)—The White House disclosed today that Secretary of State Dulles has offered to meet with British and French foreign policy chiefs for an informal review of urgent cold war problems in advance of the postponed Big Three conference at Bermuda.

The White House announcement came after Britain's acting Prime Minister Richard A. Butler told the House of Commons in London that the British had proposed such a meeting.

Butler described it as an "'interim meeting" not intended to cancel or replace a later Bermuda conference which Prime Minister Churchill would attend to talk over top strategy with President Eisenhower and French Premier Joseph Laniel.

The State Department said Dulles agreed Saturday to meet the suggested British representative, the Marquis of Salisbury, and at the same time notified the French of the proposed conference.

Salisbury, Britain's lord president of the Council, has been handling some British foreign affairs in the absence of Churchill and Foreign Minister Eden, who are both ill.

The British proposed the stopgap meeting Friday noon, the State Department said. They suggested Lord Salisbury come to Washington "within the next two weeks."

Baltimore Woman Dies During Storm

BALTIMORE, June 29 (AP)—One woman died, and a 15-year-old boy and two men were stunned by lightning in the violent rain storm which hit Baltimore Sunday evening.

Mrs. Lora B. Hunt, 69, collapsed and died after lightning hit a trolley wire above the spot where she and a 13-year-old granddaughter were waiting for a street car.

30,000 Alabama Children To Get Polio-Curbing Shots

MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 29 (AP)—Doctors, nurses and anxious parent-teacher volunteers worked feverishly today to get ready for the nation's first mass gamma globulin vaccination of children in a polio-stricken community.

An estimated 30,000 boys and girls will be given precious shots of the polio-arresting serum in a desperate effort to stem an outbreak that has stricken 80 victims in the past few weeks. Three children have died.

Every child in Montgomery County under 10 years of age is eligible for the inoculation free of charge in a wholesale immunization program which starts tomorrow.

Never before has gamma globulin been used in such widespread preventive measures except on an experimental basis. Injections were given previously at Houston, Tex., and Sioux City, Iowa, where tests proved the serum can prevent polio if used in time.

Dr. A. H. Graham, the county health officer, said there probably won't be any noticeable decline in the polio rate here for the first week after the county-wide immunization. But after that, he said "We expect the number of cases to drop off about 80 per cent."

Truce Without Rhee Approval 'Unacceptable'

Enemy Says Letter 'Inconsistent' With Facts, Not Sincere

SEOUL, Tuesday, June 30 (AP)—U. N. Commander Gen. Mark Clark suggested to the Reds yesterday that the Allies and the Communists immediately sign a Korean armistice without approval of the balky South Korean President Syngman Rhee, but today the Red Pyongyang radio quickly spurned the offer.

Clark made his proposal in a letter handed to the Reds at Panmunjom after another secret session with Rhee.

Clark emphasized that he doesn't control the South Korean government but does command its army. He promised the Reds his command would do its best to get Rhee's cooperation in a truce and said that, if necessary, the U. N. Command would use armed force "to the limits of its ability" to assure observance of a truce.

The first Red reaction to the letter came today from the North Korean Communist radio at Pyongyang. It said the letter was not acceptable, showed "no sincerity," and was "inconsistent" with facts.

The broadcast, monitored by Kyodo news agency in Tokyo, said the letter gave "no guarantee" on the future conduct of the South Korean government and that therefore the Communists could not accept it.

The radio said the letter should have been written "with more sincerity."

The Pyongyang broadcast reiterated the Red stand that Rhee's release of more than 27,000 anti-Communist Korean prisoners from U. N. prison camps recently was the result of what it called intrigue between the United States and the South Korean government. Clark specifically denied this in his letter.

The broadcast insisted, as Red delegates did at the last full scale truce meeting in Panmunjom June 19, that the freed prisoners be recaptured and returned to the compounds.

Rhee retired to his mansion and declined comment but his subordinates expressed resentment over the Clark letter.

President Eisenhower's special truce envoy, Walter S. Robertson, who was joined by Clark in Monday's meeting with Rhee, planned a fifth session today. This strongly suggested that Rhee still has not been brought back in line since he upset the truce by freeing anti-Red Korean prisoners.

Clark's action in sending the letter before Rhee's objections were overcome indicated either that he expects Rhee to be brought in line soon or that a truce can be signed while Rhee still objects.

Clark made dispatch of his letter the first order of business after emerging Monday from Rhee's mansion along with Robertson, U. S. Ambassador Ellis O. Briggs and Clark's political adviser, Robert Murphy.

Robertson, assistant U. S. secretary of state, further fanned the fires of speculation by telling newsmen: 1. He had seen Clark's letter "many times." 2. "Yes" it meant the Allies were going ahead with signing a truce. 3. But he was "still in conference" with Rhee.

Italian Premier Dissolves Cabinet

ROME, June 29 (AP)—Premier Alcide de Gasperi went through the formality today of dissolving his seventh successive Cabinet with every expectation President Luigi Einaudi would ask him to form a new one.

De Gasperi, 72, called this morning at Rome's ancient Quirinale Palace and handed in his government's resignation to the President in keeping with tradition following the national elections early this month.

Although De Gasperi undoubtedly will be called upon to form the new government, there was some question whether he will be able to forge one strong enough to weather the parliamentary assaults of the extreme left and right which pared down his coalition's majority at both ends in the elections.

The pro-Western four-party center coalition, led by the Premier's own Christian Democratic party, emerged from the election with a razor-thin majority of 16 seats in the Chamber of Deputies and 13 in the Senate. Communists and fellow-traveling Socialists on the left stole some of the seats and Fascists and Monarchists on the right took others.

Starting tomorrow, City Water Engineer J. S. Strohmeyer said the ban would only be in force only between 4 and 10 p.m.

Ike's World War II Escort Now Runs House Elevator

WASHINGTON, June 29 (AP)—The man who preceded Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower during much of World War II is back in the business of escorting dignitaries. Al Salem has signed on as an elevator operator in the House of Representative.

Salem fought the war on a motorcycle, first in England and then in France, escorting generals, movie actors, the King and Queen of England and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. Topping his list was Eisenhower.

"I don't know how many times we escorted Eisenhower," Salem said today. "But were on the go all the time. We wore out two motorcycles a year."

Most generals didn't pay much attention to the dark, lively eyed staff sergeant on the motorcycle ahead.

"But Gen. Eisenhower," Salem said, "always came up after every trip to shake our hands and thank us. He seemed more interested in us than in those stars on his shoulder."

Salem, now 31, stayed in England after the war, sold suits and married an English girl. He didn't come back to Johnstown, Pa., until 1950.

Always an ardent Republican, he pitched into the campaign with great enthusiasm when Eisenhower was nominated. The peak was reached, for Salem, when Eisenhower visited Johnstown, and Salem rode the motorcycle leading the parade, just like old times.

A couple of months ago, his house burned, and with his wife and two children, he came to Washington. The elevator job is temporary, and he hopes to catch on with a House committee, or possibly get a job abroad.

If Eisenhower is Salem's hero, Mrs. Roosevelt is his heroine.

"I escorted her for three days, and I don't care if she is a Democrat, she's still a great lady," he said.

Backstage Battle On Tax Bill Won By Eisenhower Forces

Effort To Bypass Ways And Means Group Called Off

Committee To Bring Measure To Floor

WASHINGTON, June 29 (AP)—Eisenhower forces today probed the way for victory in the President's battle to extend the excess profits tax, sidestepping a bruising House floor fight in the process.

In tense, unprecedented backstage maneuvers, the administration won assurances that the previously rebellious House Ways and Means Committee finally would bring a tax extension bill to the House floor.

With those assurances, House leaders dramatically called off, literally at the last minute, an effort to bypass the tax-writing committee and force a bitter floor showdown.

Close Fight Avoided

The upshot was twofold:

1. The administration avoided what was shaping up as a close and spectacular floor fight over the bypassing procedure—a fight sure to leave gaping wounds in party harmony.

2. It still seemed certain to get what it wants—extension of the tax. Leaders on both sides have conceded the tax extension will skim through Congress once it reaches the House floor, regardless of how it gets there.

The settlement was assured only one day before the tax expires. But the levy, which ranges up to 82 per cent on corporation profits above those earned in past periods, can be renewed retroactively.

Few Firms Affected

It affects relatively few firms, but Eisenhower urged a six-month extension to raise an estimated 800 million dollars and help reduce the federal deficit and fight inflation.

Ways and Means Committee members said the backstage settlement called for a meeting of the group at least by next week. Then, in the face of still unyielding opposition to the tax by Chairman Reed (R-NY), a member of the group is expected to move that the profits bill be taken up.

House leaders said emphatically they have ironclad assurances that a majority of the committee will support the move and bring a bill to the floor.

Reed Calls Meeting July 8

Reed in effect confirmed the situation by calling a meeting of his committee July 8—with a broad tax revision program on the agenda. Previously he had called off all committee meetings to prevent any action on the profits tax.

The break came dramatically, as a packed House convened expecting a scrap to the bitter end over bypassing Reed's committee. The full House had to approve the drastic procedure by which the administration brought the issue to the floor via the House Rules Committee. GOP leaders said they were confident the administration would win—but it was hairline close.

Arthur Godfrey Flown To Home

LEESBURG, Va., June 29 (AP)—Arthur Godfrey landed at this Northern Virginia town late today after an unannounced flight from Boston. He went immediately to his 350-acre country estate in neighboring Loudoun County.

"He is very tired from the trip, but otherwise doing fine," said Mrs. Godfrey, who met her husband at the airport.

She said he would convalesce at his home, Beacon Hill Farm, for several weeks. His nurse was reported to have made the flight with him on the plane, owned by Godfrey and piloted by Frank Lavigna, his personal pilot.

Godfrey underwent a hip operation in Boston last month and had been hospitalized there ever since.

Mail Clerk Charged With Theft Of Letters

BALTIMORE, June 29 (AP)—Grover C. Adams, Jr., 31-year-old substitute mail clerk at Crisfield, Md., was released today in $1,000 bail for Federal grand jury action on a charge of stealing letters from the mails.

James B. Murphy, assistant U. S. attorney here, said the regularity of the thefts—which occurred usually on a Sunday—prompted inspector to concentrate their probe on that day.

Keenan Wynn's Wife Granted Divorce

Treason Charge Fired At Douglas By Rep. Wheeler

WASHINGTON, June 29 (AP)—Rep. Wheeler (D-GA) today accused Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas of treason as part of six specific grounds for impeachment.

Wheeler took the House floor for an hour's discussion of his resolution to impeach Douglas for "high crimes and misdemeanors" as an aftermath to Douglas' stay of execution to atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg.

The full court vacated the stay, although the majority stressed the opinion that Douglas acted within his authority in granting it. The Rosenbergs were executed a few hours afterward, on June 19.

In advance of House committee hearings tomorrow, Wheeler declared he was not basing his impeachment action on any question of Douglas' authority. The justice's action in the Rosenberg case, he said, only served "to accentuate a conclusion I had reached" as to his "general unfitness."

Wheeler said the "strange and unprecedented decision" by Douglas made him wonder "whether he is a knave or a fool," and added that he did not consider Douglas a fool.

"Therefore, I am forced to conclude he is a knave unworthy of the high position he holds," he declared.

Wheeler listed the following specifications to support his charges of high crimes and misdemeanors warranting impeachment:

1. Conduct unbecoming an associate justice of the court.
2. Action tending to bring the court into disrepute.
3. Public statements by Douglas prejudging cases.
4. Moral turpitude.
5. Conspiracy.
6. Treason.

On the score of moral turpitude, Wheeler asked the House to subpoena records of a divorce case in Portland, Ore., in which he said Douglas figured.

He said the case involved "the divorce of Assistant Secretary of the Interior C. Girard Davidson from his wife, Mercedes Davidson, with Mr. Justice Douglas reportedly named as corespondent."

Davidson, now a Portland attorney, called Wheeler's statement "completely untrue." His wife, Mercedes, divorced him on Jan. 23, 1952 on grounds of incompatability. Davidson did not contest the action, and the court reporter said Justice Douglas's name was not mentioned at the hearing.

Polio Rate In U. S. At Record Level, U. N. Unit Reports

GENEVA, Switzerland, June 29 (AP)—This year's poliomyelitis rate in the United States is running at a level nearly 17 per cent above the all-time record rate recorded last year, the United Nations World Health Organization reported today.

The organization's weekly epidemiological bulletin said 3,124 polio cases were reported in the United States between Jan. 1 and June 13 of this year, compared with 2,678 cases in the same period of last year. During the whole of last year, there were 57,244 cases of the disease in the United States, more than double the 1951 total and more than ever recorded in any single year.

USSR "Slipping," Wiley Declares

WASHINGTON, June 29 (AP)—Sen. Wiley (R-Wis) told the Senate today Russia's control over its satellites is already beginning to crumble and he predicted that Red China may be next to turn against the Kremlin.

"The powder keg of subjugated peoples could blow sky-high overnight," he said.

The Wisconsin senator, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, made the statement in urging the Senate to approve an administration-sponsored bill authorizing $5,318,000,000 in foreign aid.

Following Wiley's lead-off speech, Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) told the Senate he hoped the measure would be approved without substantial change as "a vote of confidence" in President Eisenhower's foreign policy.

Sen. Knowland of California, acting GOP floor leader, asked the Senate to be ready for a vote on the bill tomorrow evening.

Wiley said the Eisenhower administration will be "hard boiled" about spending the money because it will take an average of $39 out of every American's pocket.

Meeting Of Big 3 Foreign Policy Chiefs Proposed

WASHINGTON, June 29 (AP)—The White House disclosed today that Secretary of State Dulles has offered to meet with British and French foreign policy chiefs for an informal review of urgent cold war problems in advance of the postponed Big Three conference at Bermuda.

The White House announcement came after Britain's acting Prime Minister Richard A. Butler told the House of Commons in London that the British had proposed such a meeting.

Butler described it as an "'interim meeting" not intended to cancel or replace a later Bermuda conference which Prime Minister Churchill would attend to talk over top strategy with President Eisenhower and French Premier Joseph Laniel.

The State Department said Dulles agreed Saturday to meet the suggested British representative, the Marquis of Salisbury, and at the same time notified the French of the proposed conference.

Salisbury, Britain's lord president of the Council, has been handling some British foreign affairs in the absence of Churchill and Foreign Minister Eden, who are both ill.

The British proposed the stopgap meeting Friday noon, the State Department said. They suggested Lord Salisbury come to Washington "within the next two weeks."

Baltimore Woman Dies During Storm

BALTIMORE, June 29 (AP)—One woman died, and a 15-year-old boy and two men were stunned by lightning in the violent rain storm which hit Baltimore Sunday evening.

Mrs. Lora B. Hunt, 69, collapsed and died after lightning hit a trolley wire above the spot where she and a 13-year-old granddaughter were waiting for a street car.

30,000 Alabama Children To Get Polio-Curbing Shots

MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 29 (AP)—Doctors, nurses and anxious parent-teacher volunteers worked feverishly today to get ready for the nation's first mass gamma globulin vaccination of children in a polio-stricken community.

An estimated 30,000 boys and girls will be given precious shots of the polio-arresting serum in a desperate effort to stem an outbreak that has stricken 80 victims in the past few weeks. Three children have died.

Every child in Montgomery County under 10 years of age is eligible for the inoculation free of charge in a wholesale immunization program which starts tomorrow.

Never before has gamma globulin been used in such widespread preventive measures except on an experimental basis. Injections were given previously at Houston, Tex., and Sioux City, Iowa, where tests proved the serum can prevent polio if used in time.

Dr. A. H. Graham, the county health officer, said there probably won't be any noticeable decline in the polio rate here for the first week after the county-wide immunization. But after that, he said "We expect the number of cases to drop off about 80 per cent."

Truce Without Rhee Approval 'Unacceptable'

Enemy Says Letter 'Inconsistent' With Facts, Not Sincere

SEOUL, Tuesday, June 30 (AP)—U. N. Commander Gen. Mark Clark suggested to the Reds yesterday that the Allies and the Communists immediately sign a Korean armistice without approval of the balky South Korean President Syngman Rhee, but today the Red Pyongyang radio quickly spurned the offer.

Clark made his proposal in a letter handed to the Reds at Panmunjom after another secret session with Rhee.

Clark emphasized that he doesn't control the South Korean government but does command its army. He promised the Reds his command would do its best to get Rhee's cooperation in a truce and said that, if necessary, the U. N. Command would use armed force "to the limits of its ability" to assure observance of a truce.

The first Red reaction to the letter came today from the North Korean Communist radio at Pyongyang. It said the letter was not acceptable, showed "no sincerity," and was "inconsistent" with facts.

The broadcast, monitored by Kyodo news agency in Tokyo, said the letter gave "no guarantee" on the future conduct of the South Korean government and that therefore the Communists could not accept it.

The radio said the letter should have been written "with more sincerity."

The Pyongyang broadcast reiterated the Red stand that Rhee's release of more than 27,000 anti-Communist Korean prisoners from U. N. prison camps recently was the result of what it called intrigue between the United States and the South Korean government. Clark specifically denied this in his letter.

The broadcast insisted, as Red delegates did at the last full scale truce meeting in Panmunjom June 19, that the freed prisoners be recaptured and returned to the compounds.

Rhee retired to his mansion and declined comment but his subordinates expressed resentment over the Clark letter.

President Eisenhower's special truce envoy, Walter S. Robertson, who was joined by Clark in Monday's meeting with Rhee, planned a fifth session today. This strongly suggested that Rhee still has not been brought back in line since he upset the truce by freeing anti-Red Korean prisoners.

Clark's action in sending the letter before Rhee's objections were overcome indicated either that he expects Rhee to be brought in line soon or that a truce can be signed while Rhee still objects.

Clark made dispatch of his letter the first order of business after emerging Monday from Rhee's mansion along with Robertson, U. S. Ambassador Ellis O. Briggs and Clark's political adviser, Robert Murphy.

Robertson, assistant U. S. secretary of state, further fanned the fires of speculation by telling newsmen: 1. He had seen Clark's letter "many times." 2. "Yes" it meant the Allies were going ahead with signing a truce. 3. But he was "still in conference" with Rhee.

Italian Premier Dissolves Cabinet

ROME, June 29 (AP)—Premier Alcide de Gasperi went through the formality today of dissolving his seventh successive Cabinet with every expectation President Luigi Einaudi would ask him to form a new one.

De Gasperi, 72, called this morning at Rome's ancient Quirinale Palace and handed in his government's resignation to the President in keeping with tradition following the national elections early this month.

Although De Gasperi undoubtedly will be called upon to form the new government, there was some question whether he will be able to forge one strong enough to weather the parliamentary assaults of the extreme left and right which pared down his coalition's majority at both ends in the elections.

The pro-Western four-party center coalition, led by the Premier's own Christian Democratic party, emerged from the election with a razor-thin majority of 16 seats in the Chamber of Deputies and 13 in the Senate. Communists and fellow-traveling Socialists on the left stole some of the seats and Fascists and Monarchists on the right took others.

Nehru Assures Adlai India Will Be On Side Of Freedom In Showdown

NEW YORK, June 29 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson today quoted India's Pandit Nehru as saying that in a showdown India will be on the side of freedom.

Stevenson cautioned, however, in an article in Look magazine, that too much American pressure to have India join the anti-Communist front might produce the opposite result.

"I suspect that Nehru . . . rather fancies the role of a non-involved peacemaker," Stevenson wrote.

Stevenson, the Democrat who lost the White House to President Eisenhower, visited India recently during a post-election world tour from which he has not yet returned.

He described Nehru, the Indian Prime Minister, as "essentially a liberal in the best Western sense," and said that with men like Nehru in power India "will never go the authoritarian way."

But Stevenson added:

"These proud Asian peoples cannot be browbeaten, bribed or cajoled, and we cannot win friends merely by shouting anti-Communist slogans."

More important, Stevenson wrote, is for India to "strengthen her fledgling democracy than to proclaim her allegiance to 'our side' in foreign affairs.

"For a healthy democracy, even in a 'neutralist' India, will be a stronger bulwark against communism in Asia than a shaky, uncertain state—no matter how loudly or anti-Communist its leaders speak."

People in the United States now are getting married at younger ages than before.

Auto Trailer Tax Illegal, Suit Says

LEONARDTOWN, Md., June 29 (AP)—The county's new 50-cent-a-week tax on automobile trailers is under attack in St. Mary's County Circuit Court.

Plaintiffs representing 375 trailer owners in the area filed a suit contending the tax is unconstitutional.

Judge J. Dudley Digges of the state's seventh judicial circuit ordered the St. Mary's County commissioners to answer the bill of complaint by July 10.

Baltimore Co. Board Again Bars Newsmen

TOWSON, June 29 (AP)—Baltimore County Commissioners conducted business behind closed doors again today, denying newsmen access to the regularly scheduled Monday meeting.

Michael J. Birmingham, president of the Board of Commissioners, said "we've got too much to do at these meetings to be disturbed by anyone that just wants to poke their head in."

He said the business meetings are for business alone, and not for visits from questioning press representatives or casual county residents who want to observe their local government in action.

D. C. Crime Bill Signed

WASHINGTON, June 29 (AP) — A District of Columbia crime bill designed to make things tougher for the underworld was signed today by President Eisenhower.

The new law, which came into being after four years of work, fixes minimum penalties for some crimes, increases maximum sentences in others, and plugs what its proponents said were loopholes in District of Columbia laws.

Writer Praises Russia At Probe

WASHINGTON, June 29 (AP) — A New York writer who balked at saying whether he ever has been a Communist praised Russia and attacked the House Un-American Activities Committee today on the anti-Semitism issue.

Dr. Louis Harap, a bantam-sized Harvard graduate, contended Russia has almost obliterated anti-Semitism.

Harap said he was obligated not to cooperate with the committee because he said its operations "are tending to bring this country into a condition under which six million Jews were murdered."

Although his name is on the masthead, Harap refused to say whether he is or has been editor of Jewish Life, a monthly publication. Robert L. Kunzig, committee attorney, said that as long ago as 1942 Jewish Life was cited as a Communist organ by Francis Biddle, then attorney general.

Harap also refused to tell whether he had written articles for the Communist newspaper, the Daily Worker, contending that Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, atom spies executed June 19, were victims of anti-Semitism.

The witness refused 35 times to answer questions relating to communism on grounds the answers might tend to incriminate him.

Court Battle Looms Over McCarthy Statue

BALTIMORE, June 29 (AP)—Tim Bright, used car dealer, showman and candidate for governor, went to court today in an effort to make the city let him unveil a statue of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

Bright charges the city's board of estimates was arbitrary and capricious last week when it failed to issue him a permit for the ceremonies.

Bright has planned the unveiling for the Fourth of July in the broad center strip of North Avenue normally used for parking. After unveiling the granite likeness of his hero, he proposes to put it away somewhere until he can find a permanent spot for it in the city.

Too Much Water Closes Swim Pool

BALTIMORE, June 29 (AP)—Too much water closed down the municipal swimming pool in Patterson Park today.

The water came from a Sunday evening storm which dumped 4.35 inches of rain on Baltimore in 90 minutes.

Five feet of water rushed into the pool's engine room, stopping the pumps. Another 14 inches of water and mud damaged the bathhouse.

Charles A. Hook, superintendent of parks, said it probably will be next Saturday before the pool can be reopened.

11 European Nations Unite For A-Research

PARIS, June 29 (AP) — Delegates from 11 European nations met today to put the finishing touches on a convention establishing a European organization for nuclear research.

The convention is scheduled to be signed Wednesday by representatives of Belgium, Britain, Denmark, France, Italy, Norway, Netherlands, Sweden, Switzerland, West Germany and Yugoslavia. Britain, which up to now has sent an observer to the drafting council, notified it today that she will sign the convention and contribute up to 24 per cent of the organization's cost.

Keenan Wynn's 2nd Wife Granted Divorce

LOS ANGELES, June 29 (AP)—Keenan Wynn's second wife got a divorce today, testifying that he was too friendly with his first wife, Evie, who left him to marry Van Johnson.

Blonde Betty Jane (Beetsie) Wynn, 27-year-old model, told Superior Court:

"She (Mrs. Johnson) started calling Keenan the second day after we were married. She knew exactly what I had paid for my clothes and complained that I was going to spend all his money."

She also testified that Wynn saw his ex-wife personally and when the second Mrs. Wynn objected, Wynn would laugh.

Smashed Freighter Is Towed Into Port

NEW YORK, June 29 (AP) — Four laboring tugs tonight towed into New York harbor a Brazilian freighter badly smashed last night in a collision with a tanker off the foggy coast of New Jersey.

Aboard the stricken vessel was the body of a crewman who gave his life in an attempt to ease the crash impact. The collision opened a gash from the freighter's deck to its waterline.

The fatality in the collision last night 12 miles offshore was Aristides Bestos dos Santos, 33, of Rio de Janeiro, crewman on the 5,408-ton freighter Loide Panama.

Shipmates said Dos Santos saw the big American tanker Gulftrade bearing down in the fog and rushed to put a hemp bumper over the side where the tanker was about to strike amidships.

The crash split a 25-foot wound in the Loide Panama's side and killed Dos Santos instantly. Two other Brazilian crewmen were injured, one with a broken leg.

BALTIMORE, June 29 (AP)—Too much water closed down the municipal swimming pool in Patterson Park today.

The water came from a Sunday evening storm which dumped 4.35 inches of rain on Baltimore in 90 minutes.

Five feet of water rushed into the pool's engine room, stopping the pumps. Another 14 inches of water and mud damaged the bathhouse.

Charles A. Hook, superintendent of parks, said it probably will be next Saturday before the pool can be reopened.

The convention is scheduled to be signed Wednesday by representatives of Belgium, Britain, Denmark, France, Italy, Norway, Netherlands, Sweden, Switzerland, West Germany and Yugoslavia. Britain, which up to now has sent an observer to the drafting council, notified it today that she will sign the convention and contribute up to 24 per cent of the organization's cost.

Keenan Wynn's 2nd Wife Granted Divorce

LOS ANGELES, June 29 (AP)—Keenan Wynn's second wife got a divorce today, testifying that he was too friendly with his first wife, Evie, who left him to marry Van Johnson.

Blonde Betty Jane (Beetsie) Wynn, 27-year-old model, told Superior Court:

"She (Mrs. Johnson) started calling Keenan the second day after we were married. She knew exactly what I had paid for my clothes and complained that I was going to spend all his money."

She also testified that Wynn saw his ex-wife personally and when the second Mrs. Wynn objected, Wynn would laugh.

Smashed Freighter Is Towed Into Port

NEW YORK, June 29 (AP) — Four laboring tugs tonight towed into New York harbor a Brazilian freighter badly smashed last night in a collision with a tanker off the foggy coast of New Jersey.

Aboard the stricken vessel was the body of a crewman who gave his life in an attempt to ease the crash impact. The collision opened a gash from the freighter's deck to its waterline.

The fatality in the collision last night 12 miles offshore was Aristides Bestos dos Santos, 33, of Rio de Janeiro, crewman on the 5,408-ton freighter Loide Panama.

Shipmates said Dos Santos saw the big American tanker Gulftrade bearing down in the fog and rushed to put a hemp bumper over the side where the tanker was about to strike amidships.

The crash split a 25-foot wound in the Loide Panama's side and killed Dos Santos instantly. Two other Brazilian crewmen were injured, one with a broken leg.

School Board Cites Decline In Students Who Quit

During the school year just ended in Allegany County public schools there were fewer students who dropped out of school than during the previous five-year period, according to Homer S. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel.

Only 190 pupils dropped out of class as compared to 253 the previous year. The number of children who drop school is a major problem in the United States and it is estimated there is approximately a 50 per cent loss among children who start the first grade but do not complete high school. The law requires a pupil to remain in school until at least their 16th birthday.

The number of children who had to leave school this year for reasons of physical incapacity was lower than during the last five years. In this group were 66 children. Those pupils able to pursue home studies were cared for by the Special Education Department of the Allegany County Board of Education during their illness.

Refute Move-out Rumors

Figures compiled by Higgins also refuted rumors of large numbers of children who moved out of the county with their parents. There were 388 children in this category, but at the same time 706 children moved into the county during the school year.

Higgins pointed out there are other reasons for withdrawals such as children being institutionalized, deaths, entering the armed services, and those who marry.

In September, 1950 there were 15,424 pupils enrolled while in June, 1951 at the end of the school year there were 14,872, or a loss of 552. In September, 1952 there were 15,477 enrolled and in June of this year 15,081 children completed the school year. Each year the enrollment in June has been slightly lower than the previous September, but statistics indicate those children return, other children come into the county, or the increased number of six-year-olds tend to stabilize the number or even increase it in September.

15 Drafted

There were 15 students who were drafted in 1950-51; an additional 19 in 1951-52 and 12 in 1952-53. Of the 12 drafted this year, three were granted diplomas. These students were seniors who were in their second semester of work and were doing a job scholastically which met with standards of passing work. This should be an incentive to boys who are nearing draft age (20) and who will be seniors this coming year Higgins pointed out.

There were 12 boys and girls committed to institutions by the Juvenile Court during the recent school year.

Bible School Closes At LaVale Church

More than 90 boys and girls from an enrollment of 102 received certificates as the annual sessions of the Vacation Church School of LaVale Methodist Church ended with appropriate ceremonies Sunday night.

The primary and junior division was directed by Mrs. Ardell Haines and the pastor, Rev. W. W. Patterson. They were assisted by Mrs. Watson Dehart, Mrs. Harry Eisentrout, Mrs. James Smith, Miss Mildred McDonald, Miss Mary Jane McDonald, Mrs. Harry Snowden and Mrs. Harold Green. Roy P. Rhodes Gets Parole In Assault Case

A 41-year-old local Negro was given a suspended six-month sentence yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court after he pleaded guilty to assaulting a younger brother more than a month ago.

Frank S. Rhodes, 41, of 180 Wineow Street, was arrested May 26 for using a brick to inflict serious head injuries on Herbert Rhodes, 31.

After suspending a term to the Maryland House of Correction, Magistrate Donald W. Mason paroled Frank Rhodes for three years and ordered him to be of good behavior and refrain from the use of intoxicants.

In passing sentence, Mason said the defendant already had spent one month in the county lockup.

Following the fracas at the Rhodes home, the younger brother was taken to Memorial Hospital and then transferred to Newton D. Baker VA Center, Martinsburg, with scalp lacerations and a possible skull fracture.

Playground Picnic Set

Today at noon a picnic will be held at Johnson Heights Playground and children are asked to bring lunches; 1 p. m., story telling hour and at 2 p. m., a meeting to organize a playground newspaper.

Traffic Change To Be Studied

A complete study of police plans to make three local streets one-way thoroughfares, effective tomorrow is underway by Commissioner John J. Long and department officials.

Following an announcement Sunday by Long, several residents of the Waverly Terrace section complained that the proposed move would cause difficulty in entering garages.

The commissioner reported Yale Street, Waverly Terrace and part of Patterson Avenue would be made one-way as follows:

Yale Street from Baltimore Avenue northeast to Cemetery Lane; Waverly Terrace from 307 Baltimore Street north to Marion Street, and Patterson Avenue from Allegany to Beall Streets.

Due to the incline from Baltimore to Marion Street, several residents said the one-way change also would make Waverly hazardous in winter months. It was suggested that the street be made one-way from Marion to Baltimore.

Police said signs will be posted when the changes are made.

Triple Jeopardy

Background of the rioting reported from Czechoslovakia is the recent currency reform, so-called, which was a Communist trick to steal the slender savings of the workers and reduce their incomes by 50 per cent. This move, as one official spokesman tactlessly admitted, was intended to increase production by keeping the workers' standard of living so low that they could no longer afford to take a day off now and then.

This action by Moscow brought on serious strikes and riots which preceded, but probably, inspired the outbreaks in East Berlin. Now the Czechoslovakian dissenters face not only possible trial and imprisonment but deprivation of economic rights as well. The scope of this order is proof of the plight in which the Communist usurpers of power in Czechoslovakia find themselves.

Workers are to be excluded from labor unions, denied sickness compensation, paid holidays and pensions, deprived of all or part of their rights to canteen meals and family bonuses. To add fuel to the flames, this decision was made, not by the government as such, but by their own union, the so-called Revolutionary Trade Union Congress.

This action is a measure of the degradation of labor under communism. American workers who go on strike do not lose their pension rights, or even their government social security, no matter how many laws they break. Can anyone envision the AFL and CIO depriving their members of all union rights for going on strike?

The incident is a good example of how and why liberty disappears under a totalitarian government, and particularly under communism. In Communist countries the government runs everything. It is the government, the employer and the union. The worker is in triple jeopardy, with no recourse or appeal. Thus A. Zapoocky, who became Czech overlord after Gottwald's death in March, was head of the union congress and presided over the meeting at which the crackdown on striking workers was decreed.

Still There

Much will be made of the Soviet government's listing in part of travel restrictions for diplomats, newspaper correspondents and other foreigners to whom it is desired to show special consideration. These travel bans were imposed, or tightened, in 1948.

Even now the 25-mile area of permissable travel around Moscow has not been enlarged. Still, there will be vast areas of vast Russia available of access to a few.

There is no encouragement, however, of tourist travel into the Soviet Union of the sort which prevailed before the war, when entrance visas were granted to foreigners with relative freedom and the Intourist organization escorted visitors around the land—showing them what they were supposed to see, of course. That was for the prime purpose of obtaining "valuta"—foreign exchange.

As a gesture, Foreign Minister Molotov's easing of restrictions doesn't mean much, unless it is to be regarded as a sign of conciliation toward the outside world, in many areas of which there seems to be a tendency to want to believe that Malenkov is a more agreeable fellow than his harsh predecessor, Stalin.

But nothing resembling free access to the Soviet Union is to be granted. What is more significant, nothing is mentioned about Russian citizens being permitted to go abroad. There is to be nothing like a normal interchange of visits such as prevails in the free world. In short, the iron curtain is still there.

Occupational Hazard

Miss Sallie J. Fletcher has resigned as a member of the Hunterdon County Welfare Board in New Jersey because of traffic accidents on Route 69, which she had to use to reach Flemington, 20 miles from her home. Ten members of a family were killed in one accident, and there have been numerous fatalities.

Miss Fletcher intends to defy fate and the law of averages no longer. Many persons would like to follow her example. Daily travel on any highway is both terrifying and exhausting. And on city and suburban streets, where traffic crawls, congestion produces nervous strain of a different but equally unpleasant kind.

Crowded streets and highways are an inescapable part of metropolitan life in the motor age. Miss Fletcher's decision suggests that no refuge is to be found in rural regions hard by large cities except by those content to remain on their front porches. Even those who prefer to walk face mounting hazards. Cars frequently charge over curbs and crash through fences and store windows.

Detroit says proudly that it has given the nation mobility. But rapid expansion of residential areas into what were once meadow and corn field has increased the number dependent on motor transportation, and congestion increases month by month. Meanwhile, Detroit turns 'em out faster and faster, and state highway officials shudder when they try to imagine what it will be like 10 years from now.

"War" On Delinquency

If it be true, as asserted, that juvenile delinquency in the United States has increased 20 per cent since the beginning of the war in Korea three years ago, more concerted and intensified efforts are needed to check it. That is the reason for the combining at Cleveland of two national groups representing 500 institutions and agencies dealing with this growing problem in a permanent organization to be known as the National Association of Training School and Juvenile Agencies.

There are at present 35,000 boys and girls in correctional institutions throughout the country, it was asserted by the president of the new association, Raphael E. Farrell of the State Training School for Boys, Red Wing, Minn. Also he is authority for the statement that 100,000 additional delinquents annually "pass through" agencies affiliated with the new association.

There now are 20,000,000 boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 17, and it is expected that there will be millions more by 1960. Thus the problem is not one of merely checking increase in delinquency but also of working hard for positive diminution.

The extent of use of narcotics by teen-agers is only guessed at, but one speaker urged that teaching the danger of their use should be made compulsory in all schools.

Diseases Accompanied By Thirst

Most of us have experienced thirst, perhaps after going without water during a long, uninterruped automobile trip. This sensation is hardly comparable with the intense desire for water that comes to people lost in the desert or set adrift in mid-ocean.

Thirst is a double edged sword. It is normal in some circumstances but a sign of distress in others. I have seen many diabetics who developed thirst as the initial symptom. One victim became more thirsty with each succeeding week; he tried to overcome it by drinking less water but his mouth and throat became parched. He finally realized that something was amiss and was surprised when told he had "sugar diabetes," which is diabetes mellitus. In this disorder, so much sugar passes out of the kidneys that more and more water is needed to keep the sugar in solution. This explains thirst and the tendency to void frequently day and night.

Diabetes insipidus is not as common as the mellitus type but it also is associated with thirst. The condition is caused by a disturbance of the lower part of the pituitary gland which lies near the base of the brain. This part of the gland gives off a hormone which regulates water metabolism and when a deficiency exists the kidneys go on a rampage. Some urinate as much as 20 quarts a day and if this is not replaced the individual becomes dehydrated in no time. The victim is so thirsty he may drink as much as 20 quarts daily just to remain on an even keel. The cause of this rare malady is not known. In some instances heredity plays a role; in others, the glandular defect is traced to a variety of diseases varying from tuberculosis and encephalitis to tumors or leukemia. Diabetes insipidus is easily controlled with pituitary extract.

The sensation of thirst usually is associated with dryness of the mouth, which in turn is caused by a decrease in the flow of saliva. Thirst also is related to dehydration of the tissues and represents an expression of the need of the body cells for fluid. In this respect the flow of saliva, dryness of the mouth, and dehydration in interrelated. On the other hand, lack of thirst is not a certain indication that the body does not need fluid. Studies on dehydration among desert travelers have shown that the sensation of thirst disappears long before the total amount of fluid is restored thru drinking water. In diabetes insipidus, tests show that when the disease is at its height there is little saliva. If pituitary extract is injected, the amount increases and symptoms disappear. This type of thirst may be difficult to distinguish from thirst in a nervous individual who drinks a huge volume of water and of necessity passes lange amounts of urine. But in these cases, pituitary extract does not help and in addition there is no change in the flow of saliva.

This also is a symptom of many other diseases. It is noted in the man or woman who is dropsical; here the body is overloaded with water but it is all trapped in the tissues where it does no good. Dryness of the mouth long has been associated with emotional disturbances such as fear and anxiety. The cause is not known except that the nervous system influences the salivary glands. This fact was utilized in trying criminals in China as a means of detecting a guilty person thru his inability to swallow old, dry rice.

RUBBING WITH LINIMENTS

Mrs. A. writes: Are liniments used any more to relieve aching joints?

REPLY

Yes, and they are relatively effective in mild or moderate pain and stiffness associated with osteoarthritis or muscular rheumatism. The good effects stem from the accompanying massage and the sensation of heat.

INGROWN TOENAIL

C. W. writes: Do narrow shoes cause ingrown toenails?

REPLY

This is one cause. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on this problem.

RIMLESS LENSES

E. W. writes: Can wearing rimless glasses cause cancer due to the reflection of light on the lenses?

REPLY

No; don't worry.

SCIATIC NEURALGIA

L. W. writes: Is sciatica the same as neuralgia of the leg?

REPLY

A similarity exists; both represent painful nerve conditions. We might say that in sciatica there is neuralgia of the sciatic nerve.

EPILEPSY AND TIME

J. V. writes: Do epileptic attacks lessen in frequency and severity as the suffered grows older?

REPLY

Not without treatment, as a rule. Nowadays there are so many good remedies that most victims of the disease can expect complete control or marked reduction in the number of attacks.

British Will Give Gibraltar To NATO; State Department Urges Ike To Encourage East Berliners; Lady Cabinet Member Will Run For Governor

WASHINGTON — Winston Churchill has secretly offered to give the most famous bastion of the British empire, Gibraltar, to NATO in order to bolster the defense of Europe.

The British prime minister has discussed this privately with U. S. officials and is prepared to make a formal presentation of the famed British fortress at the Bermuda Conference. As far as is known, the British do not plan to exact a price for Gibraltar, though it's possible certain payments will be made for the fort's installations.

It's believed that Churchill will have considerable support from other British leaders because of British hostility to the proposed American hook-up with Dictator Franco of Spain. If Gibraltar becomes a NATO base, Spanish bases would not be so necessary.

Both the British and French have been flatly opposed to bringing Franco into the European defense pact and also have frowned on the proposed deal whereby the United States would set up air and naval bases in Spain.

Thanks to the powerful Spanish lobby headed by Charles Patrick Clark who draws $100,000 a year from Franco, Congress has voted some $180,000,000 of aid to Spain, part of it contingent on Franco giving us bases. The Spanish dictator, however, has been slow in coming to terms.

Behind The Curtain

In various speeches during the election campaign, both General Eisenhower and John Foster Dulles emphasized the importance of stirring up revolt behind the iron curtain. They were so vigorous regarding this that at one point Adlai Stevenson expressed some differences of opinion.

For more than three weeks, however, first the Czehcs and later the East Germans have been staging the most violent, bitter and significant opposition to Red rule ever seen behind the iron curtain. During this time, various proposals have been put forward by the State Department to bolster the courage of rioting Czechs and Germans, but as of this writing they have run up against a blank wall at the White House.

The Yalta Pact provides for free elections among the satellite nations behind the iron curtain, and it would be an obvious and timely move for the United States to emphasize this point now. We could demand, and keep on demanding that free elections be held.

We also have several million tons of surplus wheat, plus warehouses of butter and other foods. Some of them will spoil if not used this year. Yet if they were used appropriately in Berlin, the effect on the Russians would be devastating. American food offered to half-starved East Berlin would be something the Russians would have a hard time refusing. If they did refuse, they would be more on the spot than ever.

However, efforts to get the Department of Agriculture to move on this has failed.

Meanwhile, CARE, the very efficient food-distributing agency, already has limited stocks of food in nearby West Berlin. Donations through CARE is one way Americans who can't get their government to move, can do something on their own.

Lady Governor Of Texas

Nelson Rockefeller, grandson of the founder of the Standard Oil empire, has held down a lot of jobs in government, most of them under the Democrats, but now it looks as if he would get his biggest reward from the Republicans.

During the war, Roosevelt gave Rockefeller the important assignment of improving relations with Latin America. He did an excellent job, later became assistant secretary of State, finally served as chairman of the Advisory Committee on the Point IV Program,—all under the Democrats.

However, Nelson never got away from the fact that he was a Republican, and during the Eisenhower campaign his family contributed $85,000 to Ike's campaign chest through the interesting but legal system of parlaying the money out among wives, brother and sisters.

After the campaign, his uncle Winthrop Aldrich was made ambassador to England which he turned down. Now, however, he has taken the new and somewhat obscure post of undersecretary of Health, Education and Welfare, as top aide to Secretary Oveta Culp Hobby, only lady member of the cabinet.

Reason for this choice is not only the fact that the Rockfeller family have done an outstanding job in medical research, but also the fact that Mrs. Hobby plans to resign from the cabinet and run for governor of Texas.

As co-owner with her husband of the Houston Post, Mrs. Hobby has a following in Texas and would give Gov. Allan Shivers a real race. If elected, she would be the second woman governor of Texas, the first having been the famed Mrs. "Ma" Ferguson.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Former President Truman has come and gone—but he must have derived considerable satisfaction from his survey of how effectively the organization he left behind is functioning nowadays for his cause.

For not only are there many of his appointees still in influential positions in policy-making offices in the government, but many of the members of the press corps who have been pro-New Deal and pro-Fair Deal for 20 years are doing a good job of harassing the new administration — exaggerating unimportant issues and generally accentuating normal and natural differences of opinion on controversial subjects in the hope of widening the cracks in the Republican party.

Mr. Truman's speech in Philadelphia reviewed soberly and without rancor the policies of his own administration, with the obvious purpose of persuading all factions of the Democratic party to remain loyal to him and his policies. But a much more important and significant pronouncement has just come from the Democratic mayor of Philadelphia, Joseph S. Clark Jr., a Harvard graduate, a leader in the reform movement in Pennsylvania politics, and one of the devoted admirers of Governor Stevenson. Writing in the "Atlantic Monthly" under the title "Can the Liberals Rally?", Mayor Clark analyzes the weakness of the Democratic party with astonishing frankness. While he does not perceive the real trouble with the so-called "liberals" in the Democratic party—so many of whom have become confiscationists with respect to private property and savings and totalitarians with respect to tolerance of inquiries into Communist conspiracies in America—he does nevertheless say some things that had to be said to the radical wing of the Democratic party of which he is a member.

Honesty Is Necessary

"The liberal movement," says Mayor Clark, "tends to break down when it loses its moral status. . . . Some of the slick chicks around Roosevelt hurt and might indeed have ruined him had not the impending crisis of World War II made liberals feel that the need for his personal leadership outweighed the disabilities of some of his lieutenants. We have just seen what the 'deep freeze' did to Truman.

"There is a substantial body of opinion which gets disillusioned with crooked liberals. They will leave the tainted liberal cause to support an honest conservative. . . . In years immediately ahead liberals had better be honest. It is the best long-run policy for success in politics as elsewhere. History proves it."

Mayor Clark rightly puts his finger on what really defeated the Democratic party — the corruption issue. He touches, too, on the attitude of his brother "liberals" on the anti-Communist issue in politics. He writes:

"Perhaps the greatest controversy between liberals and their adversaries in the next two years will be over what has come to be called McCarthyism. Here the contest is an old one. Denials of intellectual freedom and civil liberties recur constantly in our history . . . But never has the danger been greater than today. It is particularly acute because there is reason to believe that Communists have infiltrated in some positions of power and importance and because liberals have foolishly denied from time to time the existence of a clear and present danger from this source. Nonetheless the menace of McCarthy and his spiritual colleagues, McCarran, must be fought and fought hard. Democracy can and must defend itself from infiltration without resorting to the tactics and techniques of totalitarians."

This brings to mind the way Mr. Truman scoffed at the original investigation of Alger Hiss by a congressional committee and called it a "red herring" to divert attention, as he said, from Republican mistakes in Congress. It also brings to mind the failure of most "liberals" to read the official testimony and the revelations of some of those same investigating committees whose chairmen they are so ready to condemn without visiting any condemnation whatsoever on the treachery to American institutions written so plainly in the testimony before these committees for 20 years.

Trying To Destroy Ike

But the Philadelphia mayor unwittingly gives away the basic strategy today of the "liberals" whose press allies in Washington are every day, under the pretense of "helping Eisenhower," doing their utmost to destroy the Republican party and, of course, eventually Dwight Eisenhower. Says Mr. Clark:

"In the present situation the struggle for President Eisenhower's mind assumes enormous importance. It is far too early for liberals to write him off. He may yet become a great leader in the liberal tradition. . . . There must be moments when the general wonders whether he is leading the right army. It would be a great thing for the future if liberals could persuade him he is not."

Is there any thought among the "liberals" of going back sometime to the proposals heard in the latter part of 1951 when the Eisenhower-for-President candidacy on the Democratic party ticket was still fondly hoped for by so many of the Trumanites? But if the general now alienates a substantial number of Republicans and keeps on following the Truman-Acheson foreign policies and accepts the mischievous advice of the "liberals" to pick a fight and make a break with McCarthy, it could mean a fatal split in the Republican party.

Matter Of Fact

By JOSEPH And STEWART ALSOP

The Proud Reactionary

WASHINGTON

President Eisenhower's problem with his own party is agreeably symbolized by Noah Mason, one of the unreconstructed members of the House Ways and Means Committee who are fighting the administration on the extension of the excess profits tax.

This small, brisk, genial, silver-thatched old man thinks that Eisenhower is a great President. In the chatty weekly letter that he writes to his Illinois congressional district, Mason has sternly berated the American business community for "just giving the President passive support." But ask Mason where he has stood on the main items of that rather small Eisenhower legislative program, and you get some odd answers:

How did he vote on the Foreign Aid bill?

"I've been against all these give-away programs from the start, and I was against that one."

How about the renewal of the President's government reorganizing powers?

"I was against that too."

And the Pakistan wheat bill?

"Another giveaway. I opposed it."

And the one year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Act?

"I'm proud to say I've voted against every extension of reciprocal trade since I came to the House nearly 17 years ago."

How about statehood for Hawaii? Surely he was for that?

"Nosirree, I was dead against that too."

Record Of Opposition

But had there been any bill the President wanted, which the House had so much as bothered to argue about, that he had voted for?

"Just can't think of any right now."

In other words, Noah Mason is a life-long Republican from a rock-ribbed Republican district, who has an unblemished record of continuous opposition to the first Republican national administration in two decades. There are a good many others like him in the House, from the Midwest and the country districts of the East. He is a phenomenon of some significance, worth having a look at.

In a kind of way, to begin with, Noah Mason is the American dream come true. His family—he was the 12th of 13 children—emigrated from Wales when he was a child; and his father went to work in one of the now-played-out Illinois minefields. He did not have a soft childhood in the little coal-town, and he went to work himself, on a farm his father had moved to, at the age of 14, but his proud, ambitious, Bible-reading Welsh mother, who lived to be 97, wanted her children to be something better than miners and farm-hands.

She drove Noah to get himself an education that was perhaps a bit haphazard, but good enough in those days for a school-teacher.

Before very long young Noah was superintendent of schools in Oglesby, Ill.; then town commissioner; then state senator; and finally, member of the House of Representatives from the 15th District. "If I'd stayed in the old country," he says with a note of pride, "I suppose I'd have been a mason, which was my father's real trade, or have gone into the mines." All the same, Noah Mason is not in favor of the American dream coming true any more—he strongly supports Sen. McCarran's brand of immigration legislation.

Protectionist And Isolationist

"We've got to keep America American," he explains.

In the House of Representatives, taxation has become his specialty, and he has considerable say about it as a member of the Ways and Means Committee. He wants, as he frequently remarks, to "relieve the overtaxed by taxing the untaxed." By this he means reducing income and corporate taxes, while levying a manufacturers' sales tax, taxing co-operatives, and depriving the churches, charitable foundations and universities of most of their existing exemptions.

More generally, Noah Mason would like to repeal every item of social and economic legislation of the last 20 years. (Another favorite plan is to balance the budget by selling all government power projects on the open market.) He is 100 per cent protectionist, 100 per cent isolationist. His twin heroes are Sen. McCarthy and Gen. MacArthur. And he thinks that "the Communist threat from within is much worse than the threat from without."

"When I was 16, 17, 18," he says, with a characteristic twinkle, "I was almost a liberal. I took a nibble of everything new. But now, some people might almost call me a reactionary."

Withal, Noah Mason is not at all like the bitter old men and cheap young demagogues who form the majority of his Republican faction. He is kindly, friendly, unassuming and altogether sincere in his peculiar beliefs. None the less, the question remains—and it is a pressing question—whose party is it, Noah Mason's or Dwight D. Eisenhower's?

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The Crime Record

It is not too easy to understand why crime is so steadily on the increase in the United States. J. Edgar Hoover's "Uniform Crime Reports" for 1952 shows an increase in crime for that year of 8.2 per cent over 1951. The large rises are in the categories of murder, negligent manslaughter, rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny and auto thefts.

The incidence of crime is too often explained as due to unfortunate environment conditions, poverty, bad housing, lack of playgrounds, juvenile boredom. These physical factors are undoubtedly important, but they have steadily been improved in most of our large cities.

Slums existed in my childhood in New York. I recently passed through one of the worst slum areas in that city, East Harlem. Comparing it with the area where much of my childhood was spent, I find East Harlem as bad as the worst. On the other hand, other slum areas have been practically wiped out by new housing and playgrounds.

It is interesting to note that crime in cities has steadily increased since 1937, no matter what improvements have been made in environment conditions. Also, that rural crime has increased at a slightly higher rate than in the cities. What is the nature of the American rural environment that crime should increase in areas where slum conditions do not exist?

The criminal mind is not easy to understand. For instance, with wages as high as they are and with work available, why should anyone want to be a pickpocket? The risk is great; the profits often small. Yet, in large cities, pickpocketing, particularly in dense shopping areas, increases and the skills, requiring considerable training and practice, are improved. Recently I read of a man being killed by a pair who found one dollar on him. He was an old and decrepit man who was not likely to have a sizable amount on his persons. Why did this pair risk conviction for murder?

It used to be said that crime flourished where ignorance was general. This country has had more than a century of compulsory education. Every child, in most states, is required to attend at least the public schools, and in some states, the age limit is so set that the child has to go to high school. There should be fundamental literacy in most parts of the country.

Literacy is no measure of education or of character; yet it gives to the individual an opportunity to read, if not the Great Books, at least the headlines of newspapers, which prove that crime does not pay. Yet, knowing that seems to be no deterrent for the criminal mind, which always tends to believe that he can get away with it.

The incidence of broken homes cannot be ignored. The most recent figures would show that the United States has the highest divorce rate in the world — one divorce in every four marriages. Each divorce, where there are children, involves adjustments in the child's psychology which are not only difficult but are often hidden from the elders. The resentments of children are not always expressed nor, when expressed, always understood by parents. "He'll get over it," is a rationalization which may satisfy the parent, but does not solve the child's problems.

Competition among parents for the love of a child in a broken family may damage a child's character forever. The father who competes by bribery; the mother who constantly denounces an ex-husband; the multiplicity of fathers and mothers and the child's attempts to adjust each new one provides no strengthening benefits to the child.

It is difficult to analyze the causes for the weakness of religion as a living force in American life. We have a great many religions and are, per capita, probably the most church-going of peoples. Whereas in many European and South American countries, the church is principally for women, in the United States, men go to church regularly as well.

Yet, crime increases steadily. It would be interesting if a grant were made by one of the foundations to study the relationship of schooling and religious activities to crime. A sort of Kinsey report on the backgrounds of criminals, particularly juveniles, would perhaps show something.

With all the facilities for character-building in this country and with constantly improving environment conditions, crime ought not to be on the increase.

Triple Jeopardy

Background of the rioting reported from Czechoslovakia is the recent currency reform, so-called, which was a Communist trick to steal the slender savings of the workers and reduce their incomes by 50 per cent. This move, as one official spokesman tactlessly admitted, was intended to increase production by keeping the workers' standard of living so low that they could no longer afford to take a day off now and then.

This action by Moscow brought on serious strikes and riots which preceded, but probably, inspired the outbreaks in East Berlin. Diseases Accompanied By Thirst

Most of us have experienced thirst, perhaps after going without water during a long, uninterruped automobile trip. This sensation is hardly comparable with the intense desire for water that comes to people lost in the desert or set adrift in mid-ocean.

Thirst is a double edged sword. It is normal in some circumstances but a sign of distress in others. I have seen many diabetics who developed thirst as the initial symptom. One victim became more thirsty with each succeeding week; he tried to overcome it by drinking less water but his mouth and throat became parched. He finally realized that something was amiss and was surprised when told he had "sugar diabetes," which is diabetes mellitus. In this disorder, so much sugar passes out of the kidneys that more and more water is needed to keep the sugar in solution. This explains thirst and the tendency to void frequently day and night.

Diabetes insipidus is not as common as the mellitus type but it also is associated with thirst. The condition is caused by a disturbance of the lower part of the pituitary gland which lies near the base of the brain. This part of the gland gives off a hormone which regulates water metabolism and when a deficiency exists the kidneys go on a rampage. Some urinate as much as 20 quarts a day and if this is not replaced the individual becomes dehydrated in no time. The victim is so thirsty he may drink as much as 20 quarts daily just to remain on an even keel. The cause of this rare malady is not known. In some instances heredity plays a role; in others, the glandular defect is traced to a variety of diseases varying from tuberculosis and encephalitis to tumors or leukemia. Diabetes insipidus is easily controlled with pituitary extract.

The sensation of thirst usually is associated with dryness of the mouth, which in turn is caused by a decrease in the flow of saliva. Thirst also is related to dehydration of the tissues and represents an expression of the need of the body cells for fluid. In this respect the flow of saliva, dryness of the mouth, and dehydration in interrelated. On the other hand, lack of thirst is not a certain indication that the body does not need fluid. Studies on dehydration among desert travelers have shown that the sensation of thirst disappears long before the total amount of fluid is restored thru drinking water. In diabetes insipidus, tests show that when the disease is at its height there is little saliva. If pituitary extract is injected, the amount increases and symptoms disappear. This type of thirst may be difficult to distinguish from thirst in a nervous individual who drinks a huge volume of water and of necessity passes lange amounts of urine. But in these cases, pituitary extract does not help and in addition there is no change in the flow of saliva.

This also is a symptom of many other diseases. It is noted in the man or woman who is dropsical; here the body is overloaded with water but it is all trapped in the tissues where it does no good. Dryness of the mouth long has been associated with emotional disturbances such as fear and anxiety. The cause is not known except that the nervous system influences the salivary glands. This fact was utilized in trying criminals in China as a means of detecting a guilty person thru his inability to swallow old, dry rice.

RUBBING WITH LINIMENTS

Mrs. A. writes: Are liniments used any more to relieve aching joints?

REPLY

Yes, and they are relatively effective in mild or moderate pain and stiffness associated with osteoarthritis or muscular rheumatism. The good effects stem from the accompanying massage and the sensation of heat.

INGROWN TOENAIL

C. W. writes: Do narrow shoes cause ingrown toenails?

REPLY

This is one cause. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on this problem.

RIMLESS LENSES

E. W. writes: Can wearing rimless glasses cause cancer due to the reflection of light on the lenses?

REPLY

No; don't worry.

SCIATIC NEURALGIA

L. W. writes: Is sciatica the same as neuralgia of the leg?

REPLY

A similarity exists; both represent painful nerve conditions. We might say that in sciatica there is neuralgia of the sciatic nerve.

EPILEPSY AND TIME

J. V. writes: Do epileptic attacks lessen in frequency and severity as the suffered grows older?

REPLY

Not without treatment, as a rule. Nowadays there are so many good remedies that most victims of the disease can expect complete control or marked reduction in the number of attacks.

British Will Give Gibraltar To NATO; State Department Urges Ike To Encourage East Berliners; Lady Cabinet Member Will Run For Governor

WASHINGTON — Winston Churchill has secretly offered to give the most famous bastion of the British empire, Gibraltar, to NATO in order to bolster the defense of Europe.

The British prime minister has discussed this privately with U. S. officials and is prepared to make a formal presentation of the famed British fortress at the Bermuda Conference. As far as is known, the British do not plan to exact a price for Gibraltar, though it's possible certain payments will be made for the fort's installations.

It's believed that Churchill will have considerable support from other British leaders because of British hostility to the proposed American hook-up with Dictator Franco of Spain. If Gibraltar becomes a NATO base, Spanish bases would not be so necessary.

Both the British and French have been flatly opposed to bringing Franco into the European defense pact and also have frowned on the proposed deal whereby the United States would set up air and naval bases in Spain.

Thanks to the powerful Spanish lobby headed by Charles Patrick Clark who draws $100,000 a year from Franco, Congress has voted some $180,000,000 of aid to Spain, part of it contingent on Franco giving us bases. The Spanish dictator, however, has been slow in coming to terms.

Behind The Curtain

In various speeches during the election campaign, both General Eisenhower and John Foster Dulles emphasized the importance of stirring up revolt behind the iron curtain. They were so vigorous regarding this that at one point Adlai Stevenson expressed some differences of opinion.

For more than three weeks, however, first the Czehcs and later the East Germans have been staging the most violent, bitter and significant opposition to Red rule ever seen behind the iron curtain. During this time, various proposals have been put forward by the State Department to bolster the courage of rioting Czechs and Germans, but as of this writing they have run up against a blank wall at the White House.

The Yalta Pact provides for free elections among the satellite nations behind the iron curtain, and it would be an obvious and timely move for the United States to emphasize this point now. We could demand, and keep on demanding that free elections be held.

We also have several million tons of surplus wheat, plus warehouses of butter and other foods. Some of them will spoil if not used this year. Yet if they were used appropriately in Berlin, the effect on the Russians would be devastating. American food offered to half-starved East Berlin would be something the Russians would have a hard time refusing. If they did refuse, they would be more on the spot than ever.

However, efforts to get the Department of Agriculture to move on this has failed.

Meanwhile, CARE, the very efficient food-distributing agency, already has limited stocks of food in nearby West Berlin. Donations through CARE is one way Americans who can't get their government to move, can do something on their own.

Lady Governor Of Texas

Nelson Rockefeller, grandson of the founder of the Standard Oil empire, has held down a lot of jobs in government, most of them under the Democrats, but now it looks as if he would get his biggest reward from the Republicans.

During the war, Roosevelt gave Rockefeller the important assignment of improving relations with Latin America. He did an excellent job, later became assistant secretary of State, finally served as chairman of the Advisory Committee on the Point IV Program,—all under the Democrats.

However, Nelson never got away from the fact that he was a Republican, and during the Eisenhower campaign his family contributed $85,000 to Ike's campaign chest through the interesting but legal system of parlaying the money out among wives, brother and sisters.

After the campaign, his uncle Winthrop Aldrich was made ambassador to England which he turned down. Now, however, he has taken the new and somewhat obscure post of undersecretary of Health, Education and Welfare, as top aide to Secretary Oveta Culp Hobby, only lady member of the cabinet.

Reason for this choice is not only the fact that the Rockefeller family have done an outstanding job in medical research, but also the fact that Mrs. Hobby plans to resign from the cabinet and run for governor of Texas.

As co-owner with her husband of the Houston Post, Mrs. Hobby has a following in Texas and would give Gov. Allan Shivers a real race. If elected, she would be the second woman governor of Texas, the first having been the famed Mrs. "Ma" Ferguson.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Former President Truman has come and gone—but he must have derived considerable satisfaction from his survey of how effectively the organization he left behind is functioning nowadays for his cause.

For not only are there many of his appointees still in influential positions in policy-making offices in the government, but many of the members of the press corps who have been pro-New Deal and pro-Fair Deal for 20 years are doing a good job of harassing the new administration — exaggerating unimportant issues and generally accentuating normal and natural differences of opinion on controversial subjects in the hope of widening the cracks in the Republican party.

Mr. Truman's speech in Philadelphia reviewed soberly and without rancor the policies of his own administration, with the obvious purpose of persuading all factions of the Democratic party to remain loyal to him and his policies. But a much more important and significant pronouncement has just come from the Democratic mayor of Philadelphia, Joseph S. Clark Jr., a Harvard graduate, a leader in the reform movement in Pennsylvania politics, and one of the devoted admirers of Governor Stevenson. Writing in the "Atlantic Monthly" under the title "Can the Liberals Rally?", Mayor Clark analyzes the weakness of the Democratic party with astonishing frankness. While he does not perceive the real trouble with the so-called "liberals" in the Democratic party—so many of whom have become confiscationists with respect to private property and savings and totalitarians with respect to tolerance of inquiries into Communist conspiracies in America—he does nevertheless say some things that had to be said to the radical wing of the Democratic party of which he is a member.

Honesty Is Necessary

"The liberal movement," says Mayor Clark, "tends to break down when it loses its moral status. . . . Some of the slick chicks around Roosevelt hurt and might indeed have ruined him had not the impending crisis of World War II made liberals feel that the need for his personal leadership outweighed the disabilities of some of his lieutenants. We have just seen what the 'deep freeze' did to Truman.

"There is a substantial body of opinion which gets disillusioned with crooked liberals. They will leave the tainted liberal cause to support an honest conservative. . . . In years immediately ahead liberals had better be honest. It is the best long-run policy for success in politics as elsewhere. History proves it."

Mayor Clark rightly puts his finger on what really defeated the Democratic party — the corruption issue. He touches, too, on the attitude of his brother "liberals" on the anti-Communist issue in politics. He writes:

"Perhaps the greatest controversy between liberals and their adversaries in the next two years will be over what has come to be called McCarthyism. Here the contest is an old one. Denials of intellectual freedom and civil liberties recur constantly in our history . . . But never has the danger been greater than today. It is particularly acute because there is reason to believe that Communists have infiltrated in some positions of power and importance and because liberals have foolishly denied from time to time the existence of a clear and present danger from this source. Nonetheless the menace of McCarthy and his spiritual colleagues, McCarran, must be fought and fought hard. Democracy can and must defend itself from infiltration without resorting to the tactics and techniques of totalitarians."

This brings to mind the way Mr. Truman scoffed at the original investigation of Alger Hiss by a congressional committee and called it a "red herring" to divert attention, as he said, from Republican mistakes in Congress. It also brings to mind the failure of most "liberals" to read the official testimony and the revelations of some of those same investigating committees whose chairmen they are so ready to condemn without visiting any condemnation whatsoever on the treachery to American institutions written so plainly in the testimony before these committees for 20 years.

Trying To Destroy Ike

But the Philadelphia mayor unwittingly gives away the basic strategy today of the "liberals" whose press allies in Washington are every day, under the pretense of "helping Eisenhower," doing their utmost to destroy the Republican party and, of course, eventually Dwight Eisenhower. Says Mr. Clark:

"In the present situation the struggle for President Eisenhower's mind assumes enormous importance. It is far too early for liberals to write him off. He may yet become a great leader in the liberal tradition. . . . There must be moments when the general wonders whether he is leading the right army. It would be a great thing for the future if liberals could persuade him he is not."

Is there any thought among the "liberals" of going back sometime to the proposals heard in the latter part of 1951 when the Eisenhower-for-President candidacy on the Democratic party ticket was still fondly hoped for by so many of the Trumanites? But if the general now alienates a substantial number of Republicans and keeps on following the Truman-Acheson foreign policies and accepts the mischievous advice of the "liberals" to pick a fight and make a break with McCarthy, it could mean a fatal split in the Republican party.

Matter Of Fact

By JOSEPH And STEWART ALSOP

WASHINGTON

President Eisenhower's problem with his own party is agreeably symbolized by Noah Mason, one of the unreconstructed members of the House Ways and Means Committee who are fighting the administration on the extension of the excess profits tax.

This small, brisk, genial, silver-thatched old man thinks that Eisenhower is a great President. In the chatty weekly letter that he writes to his Illinois congressional district, Mason has sternly berated the American business community for "just giving the President passive support." But ask Mason where he has stood on the main items of that rather small Eisenhower legislative program, and you get some odd answers:

How did he vote on the Foreign Aid bill?

"I've been against all these give-away programs from the start, and I was against that one."

How about the renewal of the President's government reorganizing powers?

"I was against that too."

And the Pakistan wheat bill?

"Another giveaway. I opposed it."

And the one year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Act?

"I'm proud to say I've voted against every extension of reciprocal trade since I came to the House nearly 17 years ago."

How about statehood for Hawaii? Surely he was for that?

"Nosirree, I was dead against that too."

Record Of Opposition

But had there been any bill the President wanted, which the House had so much as bothered to argue about, that he had voted for?

"Just can't think of any right now."

In other words, Noah Mason is a life-long Republican from a rock-ribbed Republican district, who has an unblemished record of continuous opposition to the first Republican national administration in two decades. There are a good many others like him in the House, from the Midwest and the country districts of the East. He is a phenomenon of some significance, worth having a look at.

In a kind of way, to begin with, Noah Mason is the American dream come true. His family—he was the 12th of 13 children—emigrated from Wales when he was a child; and his father went to work in one of the now-played-out Illinois minefields. He did not have a soft childhood in the little coal-town, and he went to work himself, on a farm his father had moved to, at the age of 14, but his proud, ambitious, Bible-reading Welsh mother, who lived to be 97, wanted her children to be something better than miners and farm-hands.

She drove Noah to get himself an education that was perhaps a bit haphazard, but good enough in those days for a school-teacher.

Before very long young Noah was superintendent of schools in Oglesby, Ill.; then town commissioner; then state senator; and finally, member of the House of Representatives from the 15th District. "If I'd stayed in the old country," he says with a note of pride, "I suppose I'd have been a mason, which was my father's real trade, or have gone into the mines." All the same, Noah Mason is not in favor of the American dream coming true any more—he strongly supports Sen. McCarran's brand of immigration legislation.

Protectionist And Isolationist

"We've got to keep America American," he explains.

In the House of Representatives, taxation has become his specialty, and he has considerable say about it as a member of the Ways and Means Committee. He wants, as he frequently remarks, to "relieve the overtaxed by taxing the untaxed." By this he means reducing income and corporate taxes, while levying a manufacturers' sales tax, taxing co-operatives, and depriving the churches, charitable foundations and universities of most of their existing exemptions.

More generally, Noah Mason would like to repeal every item of social and economic legislation of the last 20 years. (Another favorite plan is to balance the budget by selling all government power projects on the open market.) He is 100 per cent protectionist, 100 per cent isolationist. His twin heroes are Sen. McCarthy and Gen. MacArthur. And he thinks that "the Communist threat from within is much worse than the threat from without."

"When I was 16, 17, 18," he says, with a characteristic twinkle, "I was almost a liberal. I took a nibble of everything new. But now, some people might almost call me a reactionary."

Withal, Noah Mason is not at all like the bitter old men and cheap young demagogues who form the majority of his Republican faction. He is kindly, friendly, unassuming and altogether sincere in his peculiar beliefs. None the less, the question remains—and it is a pressing question—whose party is it, Noah Mason's or Dwight D. Eisenhower's?

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The Crime Record

It is not too easy to understand why crime is so steadily on the increase in the United States. J. Edgar Hoover's "Uniform Crime Reports" for 1952 shows an increase in crime for that year of 8.2 per cent over 1951. The large rises are in the categories of murder, negligent manslaughter, rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny and auto thefts.

The incidence of crime is too often explained as due to unfortunate environment conditions, poverty, bad housing, lack of playgrounds, juvenile boredom. These physical factors are undoubtedly important, but they have steadily been improved in most of our large cities.

Slums existed in my childhood in New York. I recently passed through one of the worst slum areas in that city, East Harlem. Comparing it with the area where much of my childhood was spent, I find East Harlem as bad as the worst. On the other hand, other slum areas have been practically wiped out by new housing and playgrounds.

It is interesting to note that crime in cities has steadily increased since 1937, no matter what improvements have been made in environment conditions. Also, that rural crime has increased at a slightly higher rate than in the cities. What is the nature of the American rural environment that crime should increase in areas where slum conditions do not exist?

The criminal mind is not easy to understand. For instance, with wages as high as they are and with work available, why should anyone want to be a pickpocket? The risk is great; the profits often small. Yet, in large cities, pickpocketing, particularly in dense shopping areas, increases and the skills, requiring considerable training and practice, are improved. Recently I read of a man being killed by a pair who found one dollar on him. He was an old and decrepit man who was not likely to have a sizable amount on his persons. Why did this pair risk conviction for murder?

It used to be said that crime flourished where ignorance was general. This country has had more than a century of compulsory education. Every child, in most states, is required to attend at least the public schools, and in some states, the age limit is so set that the child has to go to high school. There should be fundamental literacy in most parts of the country.

Literacy is no measure of education or of character; yet it gives to the individual an opportunity to read, if not the Great Books, at least the headlines of newspapers, which prove that crime does not pay. Yet, knowing that seems to be no deterrent for the criminal mind, which always tends to believe that he can get away with it.

The incidence of broken homes cannot be ignored. The most recent figures would show that the United States has the highest divorce rate in the world — one divorce in every four marriages. Each divorce, where there are children, involves adjustments in the child's psychology which are not only difficult but are often hidden from the elders. The resentments of children are not always expressed nor, when expressed, always understood by parents. "He'll get over it," is a rationalization which may satisfy the parent, but does not solve the child's problems.

Competition among parents for the love of a child in a broken family may damage a child's character forever. The father who competes by bribery; the mother who constantly denounces an ex-husband; the multiplicity of fathers and mothers and the child's attempts to adjust each new one provides no strengthening benefits to the child.

It is difficult to analyze the causes for the weakness of religion as a living force in American life. We have a great many religions and are, per capita, probably the most church-going of peoples. Whereas in many European and South American countries, the church is principally for women, in the United States, men go to church regularly as well.

Yet, crime increases steadily. It would be interesting if a grant were made by one of the foundations to study the relationship of schooling and religious activities to crime. A sort of Kinsey report on the backgrounds of criminals, particularly juveniles, would perhaps show something.

With all the facilities for character-building in this country and with constantly improving environment conditions, crime ought not to be on the increase.

North End Club Leads At RWSC

North Cumberland Homemakers Club entertained its RWSC graduates and received reports of the trip to College Park at a lawn party, Friday at the home of Mrs. John Haus, Dilley Street.

Allegany county had more graduates and more delegates than any other county, it was reported; and the North Cumberland Club, with 17 members attending, had the largest delegation to go.

The meeting was opened with Mrs. Mary Peterson reading the homemakers creed and Mrs. John Stewart gave the history of the hymn of the month, "Ye Watchers, Ye Holy One."

Mrs. Betty Chaney, who attended the special work shop and craft classes, told of the enameling on copper and linoleum block printing. Mrs. Helen Wineow gave a resume of the entire week, stressing the carillon bells installed in the Memorial Chapel, which play the first line of "Maryland My Maryland," every hour on the hour, and of the tea. Mrs. VanRoby gave the highlights of the public speaking course, emphasizing the personality development class.

Each of the club graduates, Mrs. Honora Burkey, Mrs. Mabel Watkins, Mrs. Margaret Brotemarkle and Mrs. Lora Pyles, was presented a hand painted platebearing the Maryland flower and their own name with "RWSC" and the date. Each spoke of an outstanding event of graduation week.

An invitation was extended by Mrs. Chaney for the club to hold its July meeting at her cottage on the South Branch on the 23rd. The group will go by chartered bus. Reservations are to be made with Mrs. Burkey, 3077 M, or Mrs. Roby, 2720 R.

WCCIR Unit Gets Letter From India

Making additional scrap books and collecting articles for the children's hospital in New Delhi, India, will be proposed to the International Relations Group of the Woman's Civic Club, for one of its fall projects, Mrs. Lloyd H. Buchanan, chairman, said last evening.

Mrs. Buchanan received a letter yesterday from Mrs. Richard S. Leach, chairman of the Production committee of the American Woman's Club, New Delhi, explaining how delighted the children are with the seven scrap books the group sent to them in the spring. She went on to write that the children have practically no therepy equipment and the books teach them to exercise their fingers and arms.

A request also was made for baby blankets, cotton outing flannel or woolen squares and crib size sheets from old sheets, worn out in the center.

In speaking of the scrap books, Mrs. Buchanan said they were made of pictures of animals and Christmas cards, which were cut out and arranged in detail. Donations of any such materials will be appreciated Mrs. Buchanan said, and contributers are asked to call her at 6881.

Work will begin when the meetings are resumed in September.

North End Club Leads At RWSC

North Cumberland Homemakers Club entertained its RWSC graduates and received reports of the trip to College Park at a lawn party, Friday at the home of Mrs. John Haus, Dilley Street.

Allegany county had more graduates and more delegates than any other county, it was reported; and the North Cumberland Club, with 17 members attending, had the largest delegation to go.

The meeting was opened with Mrs. Mary Peterson reading the homemakers creed and Mrs. John Stewart gave the history of the hymn of the month, "Ye Watchers, Ye Holy One."

Mrs. Betty Chaney, who attended the special work shop and craft classes, told of the enameling on copper and linoleum block printing. Mrs. Helen Wineow gave a resume of the entire week, stressing the carillon bells installed in the Memorial Chapel, which play the first line of "Maryland My Maryland," every hour on the hour, and of the tea. Mrs. VanRoby gave the highlights of the public speaking course, emphasizing the personality development class.

Each of the club graduates, Mrs. Honora Burkey, Mrs. Mabel Watkins, Mrs. Margaret Brotemarkle and Mrs. Lora Pyles, was presented a hand painted platebearing the Maryland flower and their own name with "RWSC" and the date. Each spoke of an outstanding event of graduation week.

An invitation was extended by Mrs. Chaney for the club to hold its July meeting at her cottage on the South Branch on the 23rd. The group will go by chartered bus. Reservations are to be made with Mrs. Burkey, 3077 M, or Mrs. Roby, 2720 R.

Gunter Appointed To State Education Board

Local Lawyer Will Succeed Tasker Lowndes

WILLIAM A. GUNTER

Attorney William A. Gunter, former state senator, was notified last night by Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of his appointment to the State Board of Education.

Gunter, who had the unanimous endorsement of the Republican State Central Committee for Allegany County, will fill the vacancy created by the death last July of Tasker G. Lowndes.

McKeldin's appointment carries on a tradition of long standing in Allegany County, where a lawyer from the county has held a position on the board ever since the founding of State Teachers College at Frostburg.

First to serve from this county was Clayton Purnell, Frostburg Democrat who was succeeded by Lowndes. Lowndes was president of the board when he died.

Gunter, who was born within two blocks of the Frostburg college, was graduated from Beall High School in 1909 and from Dickinson College in 1913.

From 1927 to 1931 he was Republican floor leader in the Maryland Senate. He was the GOP nominee for attorney general of Maryland in the 1950 election.

He was president of the Allegany County Board of Education from 1936 to 1942, when Fort Hill High School and the new Beall high building were erected and a new addition was built at Allegany High.

For the past 10 years, Gunter has been a member of the Board of Governors of Memorial Hospital, and is current president of the board. He has been active in the work of the Allegany County League for Crippled Children.

His new appointment is effective immediately.

Gephart Playground Plans Talent Show On Friday Night

Gephart Playground will conduct a Talent Show in the school auditorium at 8 o'clock Friday night, according to Miss Ethel Everett, director.

Tonight will be movie night, with the show expected to start about 8:30 o'clock. Refreshments will be sold by the Teenage Club. Wednesday, beginning about 8 p. m., a roller skating party will be staged on the tennis courts.

Picnic day will be observed beginning at noon Thursday. Children are requested to bring their own lunch. Soft drinks will be provided by the playground. Races and games will be featured.

Miss Everett's assistant director is Tom Mullaney.

Swimming Course Opens

An adult swimming course got underway last night at the Constitution Park pool, with 25 enrolled. The course is being taught by James Hines, according to Robert E. Pence, recreation director.

auditorium and a sewage disposal plant. S. Russ Minter, local architect, who must revise the plans he drew up for this job back in 1950, accompanied Webster yesterday on a visit to the school site to consider likely changes.

Naturally, not all of the new superintendent's duties have concerned school construction.

One innovation which he readily accepted when it was proposed to him was an accident insurance policy covering children from the time they leave home in the morning until they return home in the afternoon from school. Some 6,077 children, nearly 40 per cent of the county's 15,500 pupils, paid $1 each for this protection. The company which issued the insurance has reported to Webster that it has paid some 109 claims totaling $2,297 for falls, cuts, machine shop injuries and other miscellaneous accidents in the past year.

Admitting that the county school system is the result of cooperative efforts of many persons, Webster in recalling his first year as superintendent, stressed that the County Board of Education has been most obliging. He also added that much credit is due his supervisory and secretarial staff in the Board of Education office.

Now ending his 32nd year in the field of education, Webster has been connected with Allegany County schools the past 26 years. He had been principal at Mt. Savage, Beall High School in Frostburg and Allegany High School here before taking on his present assignment.

auditorium and a sewage disposal plant. S. Russ Winter, local architect, who must revise the plans he drew up for this job back in 1950, accompanied Webster yesterday on a visit to the school site to consider likely changes.

Naturally, not all of the new superintendent's duties have concerned school construction.

One innovation which he readily accepted when it was proposed to him was an accident insurance policy covering children from the time they leave home in the morning until they return home in the afternoon from school. Some 6,077 children, nearly 40 per cent of the county's 15,500 pupils, paid $1 each for this protection. The company which issued the insurance has reported to Webster that it has paid some 109 claims totaling $2,297 for falls, cuts, machine shop injuries and other miscellaneous accidents in the past year.

Admitting that the county school system is the result of cooperative efforts of many persons, Webster in recalling his first year as superintendent, stressed that the County Board of Education has been most obliging. He also added that much credit is due his supervisory and secretarial staff in the Board of Education office.

Now ending his 32nd year in the field of education, Webster has been connected with Allegany County schools the past 26 years. He had been principal at Mt. Savage, Beall High School in Frostburg and Allegany High School here before taking on his present assignment.

Ted Williams Is Due Home From Korea On Wednesday

Will Enter Hospital; May Not Play In '53

WASHINGTON, June 29 (AP)—The Marine Corps said today that Ted Williams will come back from Korea Wednesday but that he probably won't play any baseball this season.

Williams, a captain in the First Marine Air Wing, was ordered back to the States for treatment of an ear and nose ailment that impairs his usefulness as a jet pilot. He had flown 38 combat missions before he was grounded earlier this month.

Lou Boudreau, manager of the Boston Red Sox, said he's convinced Williams would get back into the lineup if he is released from active duty before the end of the season.

The 35-year-old slugger has been with the Red Sox since 1939 except for hitches with the Marine Corps in World War II and his more recent service in Korea. He was called back to duty in May, 1952.

A Marine Corps spokesman said Williams' tour of duty is not up until October, when the baseball season will be over, and "it's most unlikely Williams will be released from active duty before then."

He said Williams will enter the Oak Knoll Hospital near San Francisco upon his return from Korea. Just what will happen to Ted after that is not known, the spokesman said, adding "it's up to the doctors."

The spokesman noted, too, that if the doctors are not satisfied that Williams' ailment has been cured by October he'll stay in service beyond the date he now is due to be discharged.

Central Lunch, East Side Win

Queens League Race Remains Deadlocked

Central Quick Lunch and East Side's Maids remained deadlocked for first place in the Queens Softball League with 7-1 records following victories scored yesterday.

Central whipped Bake's Stop 'N Shop at Allegany Field, 16-6, while East Side trimmed Hercules Powder Puffs at Stitcher Field, 19-3.

The tied leaders are scheduled to clash Friday at Allegany Field.

Eileen Hite was the "big gun" for Central with two homers and a single in three trips, one of her wallops being a grand slammer. Jean Clontz, Pat Thompson and Dot Heavener also hit for the circuit. J. Beckward had two of Bake's seven hits and Anna Washington made two nice catches in left field.

Dot Meagher paced East Side's hitters with three safeties. Liz Crabtree belted a homer and single and Annabelle Leatherman, Helen Winebrenner, Becky Lechliter and Eleanor Leatherman also had two hits. Hercules' lone hit was Grace Ward's two-run homer in the fifth. The scores:

Central Lunch meets Cunningham's Grocery at Taylor Field and Ellerslie visits Potomac Valley in other games on tap for today.

Amvets And Eagles Tangle Fourth Time

The fourth meeting of the Amvets and Eagles, two of the hottest rivals in the circuit, and the fourth duel between Jim Gaffney and Al Sheetz is set for today when the County Softball League teams tangle at Campobello at 6 p. m.

Gaffney won over Sheetz in the first two games, 6-2 and 7-3 but the Eagles' ace copped the third game of the series 3-2. Gaffney owns an 8-3 record while Sheetz has notched six wins against seven losses.

Indians Score 5-4 Win In DD League

Manager "Whip" Kreitzburg's Indians chalked up their fourth win in five starts in the Dan Division of the Dapper Dan Baseball League by nosing out the Senators yesterday at Allegany Field by the score of 5-4.

The Tribe won the game in the final inning when Shoup doubled and raced home following an overthrow of second base.

Mullan pitched no-run, no-hit ball until the fifth when five hits produced four runs for the Senators. With two out in the last of the 6th Parsons tripled and Broadwater walked and that was all for Mullan. Mike Mackert halted the Senators' last ditch rally when he forced Root to pop to him, ending the game.

Dean Harper of the Indians belted a home run in the third inning. Score:

Billy Goodman Leads American League Hitters

Schoendienst Pacing NL With .344 Mark

NEW YORK, June 29 (AP)—Three former batting champions are running one-two-three in the American League 1953 hitting race today.

Billy Goodman of the Boston Red Sox tops all batters with a .332 mark, followed by teammate George Kell at .330 and Washington's Mickey Vernon at .328. Figures include Sunday's games.

Vernon was the first of the trio to win the batting title when he hit .353 in 1946. Kell, with the Detroit Tigers, won the crown in 1949 with .343. The following season Goodman captured hitting honors with .354.

Goodman displaced Vernon as the leader this week as he advanced from second place. The Boston handyman went 10-for-28 and lifted his average five points.

Red Schoendienst of the St. Louis Cards continues to set the National League pace with .344. The switch-hitting second baseman's average failed to change as he went 10 for 29 during the week.

Jackie Robinson of the Brooklyn Dodgers retained second place with .335. Robinson, returning to full-time action after being sidelined with a knee injury, suffered a seven-point decline.

Cincinnati's Gus Bell moved into third with .323. He went 12 for 31 and gained nine points.

MT. SAVAGE, June 29—Reggie Lennox's relief pitching highlighted the Lion's 9-8 victory over the Vets in a Little League contest here today.

Lennox replaced Williams in the fourth and struck out nine in the last three innings to receive credit for the win when the Lions chased five runs over the platter in the fifth and sixth.

The winners racked up six hits, including a homer and two-bagger by Lennox, a triple and single by Danny Williams and two singles by Taylor. Stevens had two hits for the Vets.

The Vets and Merchants will play a Hot Stove League game Tuesday at 6 o'clock. Score:

Seixas Forges To Semi-Finals At Wimbledon

Kurt Nielsen Upsets Rosewall; Rose and Drobny Also Score

WIMBLEDON, England, June 29 (AP)—Australia, reigning power in world tennis the past three years, lost two of its stars in quarterfinal round matches of the Wimbledon Tournament today with big Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, engineering one of the surprises.

Seixas' 5-7, 6-4, 6-3, 1-6, 9-7 triumph over Lewis Hoad couldn't be classified as an upset although the 18-year-old Hoad had been playing some of the best tennis on display here this year.

But Kurt Nielsen's victory by scores of 7-5, 4-6, 6-8, 6-0, 6-2 over Ken Rosewall, seeded No. 1 here and the Australians' big gun in the coming Davis Cup campaign, was a shocker.

Nielsen, 23-year old Dane who plays with a big grin on his face, clearly was the better player today and he virtually blew the overtrained Rosewall off the No. 1 court in the final two sets.

In the other quarterfinal round matches Mervyn Rose, the third member of Australia's youthful trio, eliminated Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., former U.S. champion, 6-3, 6-3, 16-14, and Jaroslav Drobny of Egypt, still weary from last week's exhausting play, used just enough of his energy to defeat Sven Davidson of Sweden, 7-5, 6-4, 6-0.

Wednesday's semifinal round pairings will pit Seixas against Rose and Drobny against Nielsen. The title will be decided Friday.

Optimists Lose To B'nai B'rith, Red Sox Win, 5-4

B'nai B'rith upset the Optimists by the score of 2-1 in a Hot Stove League game and the Red Sox downed the Pirates, 5-4, in a Dapper Division (Dapper Dan League) contest last night at Penn Avenue Field.

Ed McKenney struck out 12 Optimists while Beck fanned 13 of the losers. B'nai B'rith scored the deciding run in the fourth frame.

"Whitey" Slonaker rapped two home runs and a double and Jim Rice garnered two hits in the Red Sox triumph, the fourth against a single loss for the 1952 league champions. Ault homered for the Pirates.

"Turtle" Slonaker, winning pitcher, and Sponaugle, the loser, fanned nine each. Scores:

Maryland Trapshoot Champs Are Crowned

Maryland's trapshooting champions for 1953 were crowned over the past weekend at the Oriole Gun Club, Baltimore.

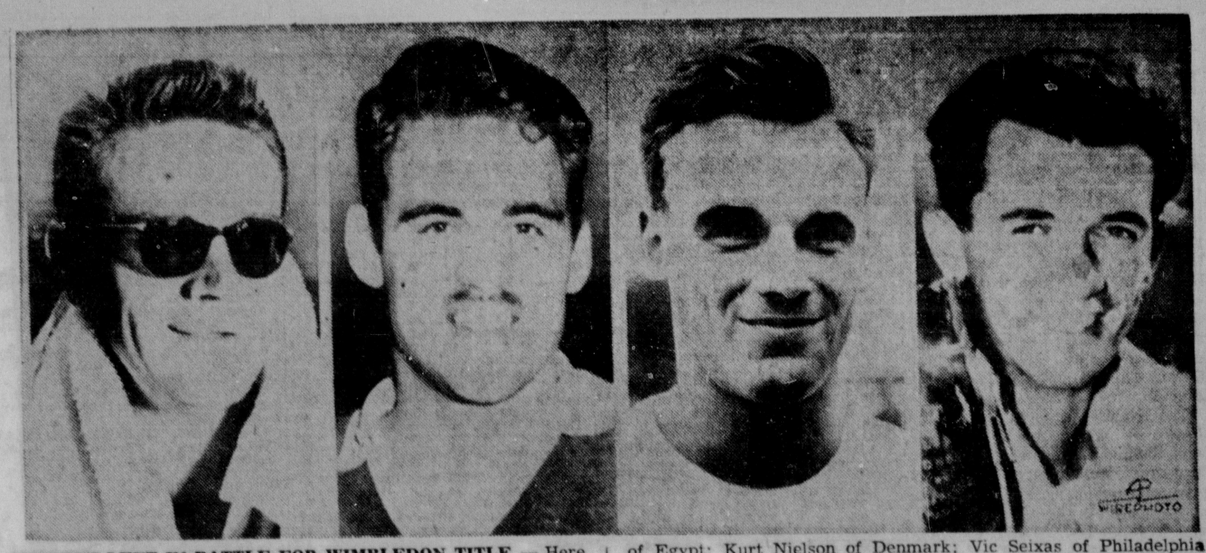

J. Calvin Michael, Aberdeen, hit 197 out of 200 to win the singles crown and B. Stone Leizear, Silver Spring, broke 96 out of 100 from 18 yards to win handicap honors.

Michael qualified to compete in the champion of champions race for state winners at the Grand American shoot in Vandalia, Ohio, in August.

Kenneth Houck, Woodsboro, won the doubles (94-100) and also the all-around title with 380 out of 400.

Mrs. Marjorie Smith, Taneytown, won the state women's championship by shattering 91 out of 100 clays from 16 yards.

One hundred participated in the two-day shoot.

Mickey Mantle Leads All-Star Team Balloting

Gets 478,588 Votes To Vernon's 466,314

CHICAGO, June 29 (INS)—Mickey Mantle, slugging center fielder of the New York Yankees, regained the individual lead today in the poll to determine the starting lineups in the All-Star inter-league baseball game at Cincinnati July 14.

The poll, taken among fans throughout the nation, closes at midnight Friday.

Mantle previously had relinquished the top spot to Mickey Vernon, Washington Senators' first baseman. Mantle now has a total vote of 478,588 to Vernon's 466,314.

Seven changes in leadership for the various positions including five in the National League and two in the American League, were noted in the latest returns.

In the National League, Hank Sauer of the Chicago Cubs took the lead from Enos Slaughter of the St. Louis Cardinals in the right field vote. Stan Musial of the Cardinals displaced Ralph Kiner of the Cubs for left field. Ted Kluszewski of the Cincinnati Redlegs took the first base lead from Gil Hodges of the Brooklyn Dodgers. Gran Hamner of the Philadelphia Phillies passed Harold Reese of the Dodgers for shortstop, and Richie Ashburn of the Phils is outrunning Duke Snider of the Dodgers for center field.

In the American League, Billy Goodman of the Boston Red Sox displaced Nellie Fox of the Chicago White Sox in the lead for second base and Phil Rizzuto of the Yankees topped Chico Carrasquel of the White Sox for shortstop.

Jaycees Score Over Exchange Club, 9-3

A big first inning in which eleven players went to bat and five runs were scored enabled the Jaycees to whip the Exchange Club in a Hot Stove Baseball League game yesterday at East Side Field by the score of 9-3.

Manager Sherman Weatherholt's aggregation started the game with five hits before a batsman was retired. These blows coupled with two walks and a fielder's choice produced the five tallies.

Eddie Parsons' homer with a mate aboard netted two more runs in the second frame. An error, Tommy Wegman's double and Bobby Page's single scored two markers in the 6th.

Tommy Smith's single scored Exchange's initial run in the fifth. With two away in the sixth Walker singled, Eisentrout tripled and Minnicks hit to give the losers two more runs. Only 24 Exchange batsmen faced Wegman in the seven inning game.

Smith, Exchange second sacker, was robbed of two long hits to centerfield by nice catches turned in by Often and Rankin. Score:

Honey Bunch started three times during the recent meeting at Fairgo and finished eighth twice and fifth once.

Ted Williams Is Due Home From Korea On Wednesday

Will Enter Hospital; May Not Play In '53

WASHINGTON, June 29 (AP)—The Marine Corps said today that Ted Williams will come back from Korea Wednesday but that he probably won't play any baseball this season.

Williams, a captain in the First Marine Air Wing, was ordered back to the States for treatment of an ear and nose ailment that impairs his usefulness as a jet pilot. He had flown 38 combat missions before he was grounded earlier this month.

Lou Boudreau, manager of the Boston Red Sox, said he's convinced Williams would get back into the lineup if he is released from active duty before the end of the season.

The 35-year-old slugger has been with the Red Sox since 1939 except for hitches with the Marine Corps in World War II and his more recent service in Korea. He was called back to duty in May, 1952.

A Marine Corps spokesman said Williams' tour of duty is not up until October, when the baseball season will be over, and "it's most unlikely Williams will be released from active duty before then."

He said Williams will enter the Oak Knoll Hospital near San Francisco upon his return from Korea. Just what will happen to Ted after that is not known, the spokesman said, adding "it's up to the doctors."

The spokesman noted, too, that if the doctors are not satisfied that Williams' ailment has been cured by October he'll stay in service beyond the date he now is due to be discharged.

Central Lunch, East Side Win

Queens League Race Remains Deadlocked

Central Quick Lunch and East Side's Maids remained deadlocked for first place in the Queens Softball League with 7-1 records following victories scored yesterday.

Central whipped Bake's Stop 'N Shop at Allegany Field, 16-6, while East Side trimmed Hercules Powder Puffs at Stitcher Field, 19-3.

The tied leaders are scheduled to clash Friday at Allegany Field.

Eileen Hite was the "big gun" for Central with two homers and a single in three trips, one of her wallops being a grand slammer. Jean Clontz, Pat Thompson and Dot Heavener also hit for the circuit. J. Beckward had two of Bake's seven hits and Anna Washington made two nice catches in left field.

Dot Meagher paced East Side's hitters with three safeties. Liz Crabtree belted a homer and single and Annabelle Leatherman, Helen Winebrenner, Becky Lechliter and Eleanor Leatherman also had two hits. Hercules' lone hit was Grace Ward's two-run homer in the fifth. The scores:

Indians Score 5-4 Win In DD League

Manager "Whip" Kreitzburg's Indians chalked up their fourth win in five starts in the Dan Division of the Dapper Dan Baseball League by nosing out the Senators yesterday at Allegany Field by the score of 5-4.

The Tribe won the game in the final inning when Shoup doubled and raced home following an overthrow of second base.

Mullan pitched no-run, no-hit ball until the fifth when five hits produced four runs for the Senators. With two out in the last of the 6th Parsons tripled and Broadwater walked and that was all for Mullan. Mike Mackert halted the Senators' last ditch rally when he forced Root to pop to him, ending the game.

Dean Harper of the Indians belted a home run in the third inning. Score:

Billy Goodman Leads American League Hitters

Schoendienst Pacing NL With .344 Mark

NEW YORK, June 29 (AP)—Three former batting champions are running one-two-three in the American League 1953 hitting race today.

Billy Goodman of the Boston Red Sox tops all batters with a .332 mark, followed by teammate George Kell at .330 and Washington's Mickey Vernon at .328. Figures include Sunday's games.

Vernon was the first of the trio to win the batting title when he hit .353 in 1946. Kell, with the Detroit Tigers, won the crown in 1949 with .343. The following season Goodman captured hitting honors with .354.

Goodman displaced Vernon as the leader this week as he advanced from second place. The Boston handyman went 10-for-28 and lifted his average five points.

Red Schoendienst of the St. Louis Cards continues to set the National League pace with .344. The switch-hitting second baseman's average failed to change as he went 10 for 29 during the week.

Jackie Robinson of the Brooklyn Dodgers retained second place with .335. Robinson, returning to full-time action after being sidelined with a knee injury, suffered a seven-point decline.

Cincinnati's Gus Bell moved into third with .323. He went 12 for 31 and gained nine points.

Lennox's Relief Work Features Lions' Win

MT. SAVAGE, June 29—Reggie Lennox's relief pitching highlighted the Lion's 9-8 victory over the Vets in a Little League contest here today.

The winners racked up six hits, including a homer and two-bagger by Lennox, a triple and single by Danny Williams and two singles by Taylor. Stevens had two hits for the Vets.

The Vets and Merchants will play a Hot Stove League game Tuesday at 6 o'clock. Score:

Seixas Forges To Semi-Finals At Wimbledon

Kurt Nielsen Upsets Rosewall; Rose and Drobny Also Score

WIMBLEDON, England, June 29 (AP)—Australia, reigning power in world tennis the past three years, lost two of its stars in quarterfinal round matches of the Wimbledon Tournament today with big Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, engineering one of the surprises.

Seixas' 5-7, 6-4, 6-3, 1-6, 9-7 triumph over Lewis Hoad couldn't be classified as an upset although the 18-year-old Hoad had been playing some of the best tennis on display here this year.

But Kurt Nielsen's victory by scores of 7-5, 4-6, 6-8, 6-0, 6-2 over Ken Rosewall, seeded No. 1 here and the Australians' big gun in the coming Davis Cup campaign, was a shocker.

Nielsen, 23-year old Dane who plays with a big grin on his face, clearly was the better player today and he virtually blew the over-trained Rosewall off the No. 1 court in the final two sets.

In the other quarterfinal round matches Mervyn Rose, the third member of Australia's youthful trio, eliminated Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., former U.S. champion, 6-3, 6-3, 16-14, and Jaroslav Drobny of Egypt, still weary from last week's exhausting play, used just enough of his energy to defeat Sven Davidson of Sweden, 7-5, 6-4, 6-0.

Wednesday's semifinal round pairings will pit Seixas against Rose and Drobny against Nielsen. The title will be decided Friday.

Optimists Lose To B'nai B'rith, Red Sox Win, 5-4

B'nai B'rith upset the Optimists by the score of 2-1 in a Hot Stove League game and the Red Sox downed the Pirates, 5-4, in a Dapper Division (Dapper Dan League) contest last night at Penn Avenue Field.

Ed McKenney struck out 12 Optimists while Beck fanned 13 of the losers. B'nai B'rith scored the deciding run in the fourth frame.

"Whitey" Slonaker rapped two home runs and a double and Jim Rice garnered two hits in the Red Sox triumph, the fourth against a single loss for the 1952 league champions. Ault homered for the Pirates.

"Turtle" Slonaker, winning pitcher, and Sponaugle, the loser, fanned nine each. Scores:

Maryland Trapshoot Champs Are Crowned

Maryland's trapshooting champions for 1953 were crowned over the past weekend at the Oriole Gun Club, Baltimore.

J. Calvin Michael, Aberdeen, hit 197 out of 200 to win the singles crown and B. Stone Leizear, Silver Spring, broke 96 out of 100 from 18 yards to win handicap honors.

Michael qualified to compete in the champion of champions race for state winners at the Grand American shoot in Vandalia, Ohio, in August.

Kenneth Houck, Woodsboro, won the doubles (94-100) and also the all-around title with 380 out of 400.

Mrs. Marjorie Smith, Taneytown, won the state women's championship by shattering 91 out of 100 clays from 16 yards.

One hundred participated in the two-day shoot.

Mickey Mantle Leads All-Star Team Balloting

Gets 478,588 Votes To Vernon's 466,314

CHICAGO, June 29 (INS)—Mickey Mantle, slugging center fielder of the New York Yankees, regained the individual lead today in the poll to determine the starting lineups in the All-Star inter-league baseball game at Cincinnati July 14.

The poll, taken among fans throughout the nation, closes at midnight Friday.

Mantle previously had relinquished the top spot to Mickey Vernon, Washington Senators' first baseman. Mantle now has a total vote of 478,588 to Vernon's 466,314.

Seven changes in leadership for the various positions including five in the National League and two in the American League, were noted in the latest returns.

In the National League, Hank Sauer of the Chicago Cubs took the lead from Enos Slaughter of the St. Louis Cardinals in the right field vote. Stan Musial of the Cardinals displaced Ralph Kiner of the Cubs for left field. Ted Kluszewski of the Cincinnati Redlegs took the first base lead from Gil Hodges of the Brooklyn Dodgers, Gran Hamner of the Philadelphia Phillies passed Harold Reese of the Dodgers for shortstop, and Richie Ashburn of the Phils is outrunning Duke Snider of the Dodgers for center field.

In the American League, Billy Goodman of the Boston Red Sox displaced Nellie Fox of the Chicago White Sox in the lead for second base and Phil Rizzuto of the Yankees topped Chico Carrasquel of the White Sox for shortstop.

Jaycees Score Over Exchange Club, 9-3

A big first inning in which eleven players went to bat and five runs were scored enabled the Jaycees to whip the Exchange Club in a Hot Stove Baseball League game yesterday at East Side Field by the score of 9-3.

Manager Sherman Weatherholt's aggregation started the game with five hits before a batsman was retired. These blows coupled with two walks and a fielder's choice produced the five tallies.

Eddie Parsons' homer with a mate aboard netted two more runs in the second frame. An error, Tommy Wegman's double and Bobby Page's single scored two markers in the 6th.

Tommy Smith's single scored Exchange's initial run in the fifth. With two away in the sixth Walker singled, Eisentrout tripled and Minnicks hit to give the losers two more runs. Only 24 Exchange batsmen faced Wegman in the seven inning game.

Smith, Exchange second sacker, was robbed of two long hits to centerfield by nice catches turned in by Often and Rankin. Score:

Times-News Faces Markley, No-Hit Artist, Tonight

Manager Howard Northcraft's Times-News tossers, victories in their last seven games in which they have scored 62 runs while holding the opposition to 15 tallies, will face the team that handed them their lone defeat of the current Hot Stove Baseball League campaign when they tackle the Rotary Club tonight at 8:30 at Penn Avenue Field.

The Newsies tasted defeat on June 4 when the Rotarians won behind Jesse Markley, 4-1. Markley, incidentally, pitched a pair of no-run, no-hit games recently beating the Optimists, 2-0, and Kiwanis 12-0. Arthur Washington, Times-News pitcher, also has scored shutouts in his last two starts against Kiwanis (6-0) and Exchange Club (11-0). Markley fanned 19 and Washington whiffed 13 in their initial duel.

Times-News leads the league with a 7-1 record. Rotary, managed by Lonnie Jackson, has won four in a row and can tie the Newsies for the league leadership if victorious in tonight's contest.

Times-News Faces Markley, No-Hit Artist, Tonight

Manager Howard Northcraft's Times-News tossers, victories in their last seven games in which they have scored 62 runs while holding the opposition to 15 tallies, will face the team that handed them their lone defeat of the current Hot Stove Baseball League campaign when they tackle the Rotary Club tonight at 8:30 at Penn Avenue Field.

The Newsies tasted defeat on June 4 when the Rotarians won behind Jesse Markley, 4-1. Markley, incidentally, pitched a pair of no-run, no-hit games recently beating the Optimists, 2-0, and Kiwanis 12-0. Arthur Washington, Times-News pitcher, also has scored shutouts in his last two starts against Kiwanis (6-0) and Exchange Club (11-0). Markley fanned 19 and Washington whiffed 13 in their initial duel.

Times-News leads the league with a 7-1 record. Rotary, managed by Lonnie Jackson, has won four in a row and can tie the Newsies for the league leadership if victorious in tonight's contest.

Double Pays $1,106

TORONTO, June 29 (INS) — The daily double at Woodbine Race Track paid $1,106.20 today.

Fifteen fans had tickets on Pencell, a 16 to 1 shot in the first race, and Beth Bomber, at 45 to 1, in the second.

DON'T GET DISARMED

YOUR only possible weapon which might defeat the declarer's No Trump game contract may be the cards of your long suit. On many an occasion your side is disarmed if you make even one discard from that holding. It may be that a certain other discard will risk presenting an overtrick to the declarer, especially if it blanks a king or removes one of two guards to a queen. But what is an overtrick compared to preserving your sole hopeful chance to beat the game?

(Dealer: South. North-South vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 NT	Pass	2 ♦	Pass
3 NT

That was a rather odd way for South to bid such a hand, containing as it did two biddable suits, one of which was a major. But he reckoned he was playing the percentages against none too skillful defenders. How right he was.

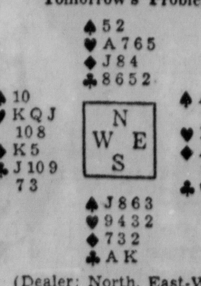

Things looked pretty tough after West led the spade 5 and East put on the Q. Seeing no point to a hold-up when he couldn't retain his A until the third round, he went right in with it, even though he could see no sure way to take nine tricks before losing the lead. Maybe running some of those tricks might induce a disastrous discard by his opponents.

To the second trick he led the diamond 2 for the Q to win. West's 7 looked pretty high, so he next laid down the K, on which West threw the club 7. The marked finesse of the diamond 10 brought a discard of the heart 3, and on the diamond A West had worries. He finally spilled the beans by tossing the spade 4.

Now on went South's thinking cap. The spade 2 had not shown up. If West had that card, he would have held a six-card suit and so probably would have stuck in a not-vulnerable overcall. Hence the suit was probably now cut to only three cards. With that in mind he scored the heart K and A and gave West a trick with the 10 to the Q. Sure enough, West then could lead to the spade K and on the return get two more spades. The necessary club return from the K-6 gave South his eighth trick with the A, and the heart 9 produced the ninth. Note that, if West had saved the spade 4 and trashed the club 6 to blank the K, the contract would have been doomed.

DON'T GET DISARMED

YOUR only possible weapon which might defeat the declarer's No Trump game contract may be the cards of your long suit. On many an occasion your side is disarmed if you make even one discard from that holding. It may be that a certain other discard will risk presenting an overtrick to the declarer, especially if it blanks a king or removes one of two guards to a queen. But what is an overtrick compared to preserving your sole hopeful chance to beat the game?

(Dealer: South. North-South vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 NT	Pass	2 ♦	Pass
3 NT

That was a rather odd way for South to bid such a hand, containing as it did two biddable suits, one of which was a major. But he reckoned he was playing the percentages against none too skillful defenders. How right he was.

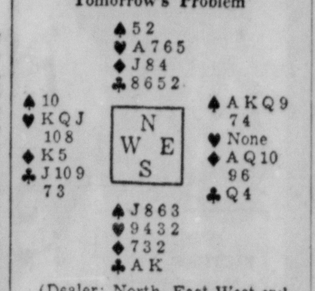

Things looked pretty tough after West led the spade 5 and East put on the Q. Seeing no point to a hold-up when he couldn't retain his A until the third round, he went right in with it, even though he could see no sure way to take nine tricks before losing the lead. Maybe running some of those tricks might induce a disastrous discard by his opponents.

To the second trick he led the diamond 2 for the Q to win. West's 7 looked pretty high, so he next laid down the K, on which West threw the club 7. The marked finesse of the diamond 10 brought a discard of the heart 3, and on the diamond A West had worries. He finally spilled the beans by tossing the spade 4.

Now on went South's thinking cap. The spade 2 had not shown up. If West had that card, he would have held a six-card suit and so probably would have stuck in a not-vulnerable overcall. Hence the suit was probably now cut to only three cards. With that in mind he scored the heart K and A and gave West a trick with the 10 to the Q. Sure enough, West then could lead to the spade K and on the return get two more spades. The necessary club return from the K-6 gave South his eighth trick with the A, and the heart 9 produced the ninth. Note that, if West had saved the spade 4 and trashed the club 6 to blank the K, the contract would have been doomed.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, June 29 (INS)—The trip Arlene Dahl and Bill Pine and Bill Thomas took to Havana where they met "Sangaree" Author Frank Slaughter has paid off in another story for Arlene.

Slaughter was so impressed with the redhead he's written "Divine Mistress" for her and it will be one of the three pictures the Dahl makes on her new contract with Pine and Thomas.

Already, Arlene has her "heart" Fernando Lamas cast in the co-starring role, that of a dashing Spanish artist, although there's still a little matter of arranging this with his MGM bosses.

On second thought, they may give in easy. The box office on "Sangaree" is excellent.

It'll be a battle of the glamor girls when Elaine Stewart, MGM's princess of glamor, meets the queen — and I do mean, Ava Gardner — in "The Prodigal."

Dore Schary has bravely decided on teaming the two beauties as rivals for Vittorio Gassman in Schary's biblical spectacle based on the parable of the prodigal son.

The other night, Dore sneaked "Take the High Ground" in which Elaine is the only gal — and she inspired so many wolf whistles from the audience he made his mind up then and there to add her to "The Prodigal."

You'd think all the punch was out of "The Beachcomber" after the way the 17-year-old Charles Laughton movie is being played and replayed on television.

But London Producer Sydney Box believes there's life in the old yarn yet, and he plans to remake it with Robert Newton in London.

Only hitch with Newton is that he doesn't want to leave Hollywood until after Mrs. Newton has her baby in August. If Box will wait this long, Newton will leave for England.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Lawrence Tierney has it bad for former show girl, June Kirby, in New York. They sit and hold hands and drink milk.

Sugar Ray Robinson's sister, Evelyn, is headed for the coast and a screen test. She's a very pretty girl.

So sorry to hear that Milton Berle's mother will be in a cast for three months as the result of her fall.

Roy Rogers and Dale Evans vacation for two weeks before putting on their show in Honolulu starting July 21. Trigger goes along, too.

Michael O'Shea's going to expectant father's school and he's taking no kidding from Virginia Mayo, the expectant mother.

How brave can Collier Young get? He's added his former mother-in-law, Lillian Fontaine, to the cast of "The Bigamist" already cast with his wife, Joan Fontaine, and his ex, Ida Lupino.

Jerry Lewis startling the natives by being a picture of sartorial splendor in London — a complete new Bond Street wardrobe, if you please.

Jean Parker and Robert Lowery celebrated their second anniversary at the Kings where Jean told friends she's opening again on the stage in "Loco" next week.

U. I. has signed Josephine Premice for a featurette in color in which she'll give her wonderful Calypso numbers.

George Sidney, a fine photographer himself, plays host to the Photographers Society of America at their meeting here Aug. 3-6. He's arranged a big rodeo at the Corriganville ranch for the visiting photogs to shoot.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

On The Line

NEW YORK (INS)—Sideglances at celebrities—

A man at Toots' bar was pounding upon same and telling Ernest Hemingway that he should "do something" about the banning of a 25 cent reprint of one of his books by the chief of police in Detroit.

"They can't do that to you . . . The greatest writer we've got!" the man thundered.

Hemingway shrugged.

"So what? I'll write another one," he said.

The man wouldn't get off the topic, so Hemingway tried again.

"It's the old story of the good mixed with the bad," he reasoned. "The Tigers won two from the Yankees, but Detroiters can't read my book. So it evens up."

Gen. Mark Clark's worries are not confined to the testy stubbornness of Syngman Rhee. Mrs. Roosevelt's mission to Japan sharpened the focus on deplorable conditions around U. S. Army and Air Force installations in Japan.

"It is hardly possible for a boy to return to his camp at night without having to walk a gamut of dozens and sometimes hundreds of Japanese prostitutes," one member of the mission complained to Clark.

A dispute over jurisdiction of the roads leading to U. S. installations in Japan is responsible for the situation.

Commodore Jan Cwiklinski, skipper of the Polish merchant marine liner Batory, was forced to sweat out a couple days questioning before the British agreed to give him political asylum.

That's hardly cricket, or good sense. Cwikinski is a real prize. His flying of the Communist coop is a much mightier blow to the cause than the defection of a couple of MIG pilots. He came for nothing. Our offer of $100,000 to the first MIG pilot to cross over in Korea, and $50,000 for all others, still stands.

If the British had turned thumbs down on Cwikinski, after he offered himself to them, and returned him, the man most certainly would have been executed. And there must have been times during the probe when this thought went through his mind.

It would have been better, it seems to me, to welcome the Polish skipper with open arms and thus encourage other big wheels in the slave states to take it on the lam.

Sygnman Rhee's resistance to the first truce plans presented to him won considerable support for the old man in this country, despite our desire to see the Korean War end as quickly as possible, if my mail is any barometer.

"I have lived most of my life in the Far East," writes E. F. Troychak, of Ossining, N. Y. "It has been literally nauseating to those who love and admire the Korean people to hear many of our commentators shout about 'treachery' and call Rhee a 'dictator,' etc., without bothering to give the facts and implications of an armistice, if they know themselves.

"Certainly the sacrifices of our men in Korea have been heartbreaking and enormous. While we send Korea to its death at the insistence of England (?), Rhee's example shows the free, world evidence of integrity and true gumption for a chance. I hope we would do the same thing under similar circumstances."

Winston Churchill, whose later years have been dedicated to holding together a dismembering empire, once said (40 years ago):

"Whatever Ulster's right may be she cannot stand in the way of the whole of the rest of Ireland. Half a province cannot impose a permanent veto on the nation. Half a province cannot obstruct forever the reconciliation between the British and Irish democracies and deny all satisfaction to the united wishes of the British empire."

We'll take this matter up with him in Bermuda next week.

Time To Recess

That Syngman Rhee man got to be as obstinate as a Pullman window.

What's wrong with the Thirty-Eighth Parallel? Rhee says he wants something concrete to show his people. We should rush him a cement mixer.

Mutual defense pacts between the sardine and the tuna are never honored by the canneries.

But don't forget there's method in Rhee's capering. He is a politician first, last and proxy.

What he can get is a North Atlantic pact without the Gulf Stream or refills.

There was freshly honed suspicion those anti-armistice riots were inspired by Rhee's oratorical formulas. We said so at the time. It now develops that Rhee rolled those snowballs.

Takes Plane Ride On 102nd Birthday

OTTAWA, June 29 (AP)—Mrs. Jennie Majaury, pipe-smoking great-great-grandmother from Lanark, Ont., went for her first plane flight yesterday — to celebrate her 102nd birthday.

And seven of her 200-odd descendants turned up in the pouring rain at the airfield to see her do it.

"It was absolutely wonderful," she told them after the 15-minute flight. "If I was younger I'd like to go up much more."

Make these preparations on your next motor trip and you'll arrive lovely and fresh!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

There is a very good chance that you may be one of the sixty-six million people who are expected to take motor trips this summer. Whether you finish your trip fresh and rested or arrive disheveled and exhausted depends largely on your travel wisdom. What kind of preparations do you make when you answer the call of the open road? Instead of resulting in a thrilling, satisfying experience, wanderlust turns to "wanderlost" unless you travel with due regard to your comfort as well as your safety.

Before starting, pack a comfort kit consisting of lotions and potions to keep you daisy-fresh. Along with your usual cosmetics, include small plastic squeeze bottles of mild soap suds, skin freshener and hand lotion. Also include cotton or gauze pads for application, some paper towels, eye-soothing drops, a miniature comb and brush, cooling cologne and sun glasses.

Happy Motoring

A small pillow, a car-throw, thermos of cold water and a snack of fresh fruits plus your favorite tidbits will provide both ease and refreshment along the way, helping to keep you alert for safe driving and also so comfortable that you'll enjoy points of interest enroute.

But nothing contributes more to happy motoring than a relaxed attitude. Unless you are at the wheel, resolve to sit back and relax. Make up your mind not to "mastermind" the driving. If you hold your breath at every passing car or mentally put on the brakes at each crossing, your tension will build into fatigue before you've been on the road an hour. And, since tension is catching, you may so disturb the driver that you'll really have something to fidget about!

If you have difficulty relaxing when someone else is driving, take something along to divert your attention. Many women find knitting a soothing influence. Maps or travel folders explaining the points of interest along the route provide an interesting source of diversion and conversation that not only relieve boredom but contribute greatly to the value you get from your trip.

Restful Travel

Beware, though, of keeping up a steady stream of chatter. It can easily fray everyone's nerves—your own, the driver's and any other occupants of the car. Long flashes of silence make for restfulness and everybody's mental ease.

Put these suggestions into practice and you'll come through a trip looking and feeling as if you had spent the time in a beauty salon!

YOUR POSTURE

To achieve grace of the highest degree — to make yours the posture ideal — to improve stance, figure, health and the appearance of your clothes as well, read the informative, easy-to-follow booklet "YOUR POSTURE". For a copy write to Secrets of Charm in care of this paper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10c in coin to help cover cost.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, June 29 (INS)—The trip Arlene Dahl and Bill Pine and Bill Thomas took to Havana where they met "Sangaree" Author Frank Slaughter has paid off in another story for Arlene.

Slaughter was so impressed with the redhead he's written "Divine Mistress" for her and it will be one of the three pictures the Dahl makes on her new contract with Pine and Thomas.

Already, Arlene has her "heart" Fernando Lamas cast in the co-starring role, that of a dashing Spanish artist, although there's still a little matter of arranging this with his MGM bosses.

On second thought, they may give in easy. The box office on "Sangaree" is excellent.

It'll be a battle of the glamor girls when Elaine Stewart, MGM's princess of glamor, meets the queen — and I do mean, Ava Gardner — in "The Prodigal."

Dore Schary has bravely decided on teaming the two beauties as rivals for Vittorio Gassman in Schary's biblical spectacle based on the parable of the prodigal son.

The other night, Dore sneaked "Take the High Ground" in which Elaine is the only gal — and she inspired so many wolf whistles from the audience he made his mind up then and there to add her to "The Prodigal."

You'd think all the punch was out of "The Beachcomber" after the way the 17-year-old Charles Laughton movie is being played and replayed on television.

But London Producer Sydney Box believes there's life in the old yarn yet, and he plans to remake it with Robert Newton in London.

Only hitch with Newton is that he doesn't want to leave Hollywood until after Mrs. Newton has her baby in August. If Box will wait this long, Newton will leave for England.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Lawrence Tierney has it bad for former show girl, June Kirby, in New York. They sit and hold hands and drink milk.

Sugar Ray Robinson's sister, Evelyn, is headed for the coast and a screen test. She's a very pretty girl.

So sorry to hear that Milton Berle's mother will be in a cast for three months as the result of her fall.

Roy Rogers and Dale Evans vacation for two weeks before putting on their show in Honolulu starting July 21. Trigger goes along, too.

Michael O'Shea's going to expectant father's school and he's taking no kidding from Virginia Mayo, the expectant mother.

How brave can Collier Young get? He's added his former mother-in-law, Lillian Fontaine, to the cast of "The Bigamist" already cast with his wife, Joan Fontaine, and his ex, Ida Lupino.

Jerry Lewis startling the natives by being a picture of sartorial splendor in London — a complete new Bond Street wardrobe, if you please.

Jean Parker and Robert Lowery celebrated their second anniversary at the Kings where Jean told friends she's opening again on the stage in "Loco" next week.

U. I. has signed Josephine Premice for a featurette in color in which she'll give her wonderful Calypso numbers.

George Sidney, a fine photographer himself, plays host to the Photographers Society of America at their meeting here Aug. 3-6. He's arranged a big rodeo at the Corriganville ranch for the visiting photogs to shoot.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

On The Line

by Bob Considine

NEW YORK (INS)—Sideglances at celebrities—

A man at Toots' bar was pounding upon same and telling Ernest Hemingway that he should "do something" about the banning of a 25 cent reprint of one of his books by the chief of police in Detroit.

"They can't do that to you . . . The greatest writer we've got!" the man thundered.

Hemingway shrugged.

"So what? I'll write another one," he said.

The man wouldn't get off the topic, so Hemingway tried again.

"It's the old story of the good mixed with the bad," he reasoned. "The Tigers won two from the Yankees, but Detroiters can't read my book. So it evens up."

Gen. Mark Clark's worries are not confined to the testy stubbornness of Syngman Rhee. Mrs. Roosevelt's mission to Japan sharpened the focus on deplorable conditions around U. S. Army and Air Force installations in Japan.

"It is hardly possible for a boy to return to his camp at night without having to walk a gamut of dozens and sometimes hundreds of Japanese prostitutes," one member of the mission complained to Clark.

A dispute over jurisdiction of the roads leading to U. S. installations in Japan is responsible for the situation.

Commodore Jan Cwiklinski, skipper of the Polish merchant marine liner Batory, was forced to sweat out a couple days questioning before the British agreed to give him political asylum.

That's hardly cricket, or good sense. Cwikinski is a real prize. His flying of the Communist coop is a much mightier blow to the cause than the defection of a couple of MIG pilots. He came for nothing. Our offer of $100,000 to the first MIG pilot to cross over in Korea, and $50,000 for all others, still stands.

If the British had turned thumbs down on Cwikinski, after he offered himself to them, and returned him, the man most certainly would have been executed. And there must have been times during the probe when this thought went through his mind.

It would have been better, it seems to me, to welcome the Polish skipper with open arms and thus encourage other big wheels in the slave states to take it on the lam.

Sygnman Rhee's resistance to the first truce plans presented to him won considerable support for the old man in this country, despite our desire to see the Korean War end as quickly as possible, if my mail is any barometer.

"I have lived most of my life in the Far East," writes E. F. Troychak, of Ossining, N. Y. "It has been literally nauseating to those who love and admire the Korean people to hear many of our commentators shout about 'treachery' and call Rhee a 'dictator,' etc., without bothering to give the facts and implications of an armistice, if they know themselves.

"Certainly the sacrifices of our men in Korea have been heartbreaking and enormous. While we send Korea to its death at the insistence of England (?), Rhee's example shows the free, world evidence of integrity and true gumption for a chance. I hope we would do the same thing under similar circumstances."

Winston Churchill, whose later years have been dedicated to holding together a dismembering empire, once said (40 years ago):

"Whatever Ulster's right may be she cannot stand in the way of the whole of the rest of Ireland. Half a province cannot impose a permanent veto on the nation. Half a province cannot obstruct forever the reconciliation between the British and Irish democracies and deny all satisfaction to the united wishes of the British empire."

We'll take this matter up with him in Bermuda next week.

Time To Recess

That Syngman Rhee man got to be as obstinate as a Pullman window.

What's wrong with the Thirty-Eighth Parallel? Rhee says he wants something concrete to show his people. We should rush him a cement mixer.

Mutual defense pacts between the sardine and the tuna are never honored by the canneries.

But don't forget there's method in Rhee's capering. He is a politician first, last and proxy.

What he can get is a North Atlantic pact without the Gulf Stream or refills.

There was freshly honed suspicion those anti-armistice riots were inspired by Rhee's oratorical formulas. We said so at the time. It now develops that Rhee rolled those snowballs.

Yesterday's Answer

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

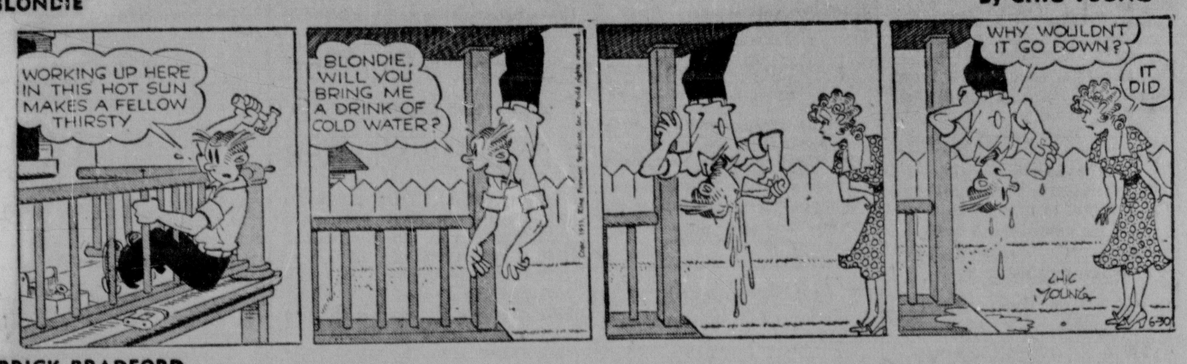

A Cryptogram Quotation

L R G E M R U P I B M P J R N S I I U L M G M
C B U J D G L I C Y F W S E L S S Y R S G O S Y
G Y B S G D E R ? — M R G H S M K S G D S.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: LET LIFE BURN DOWN, AND DREAM IT IS NOT DEATH — SWINBURNE.

Yesterday's Answer

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

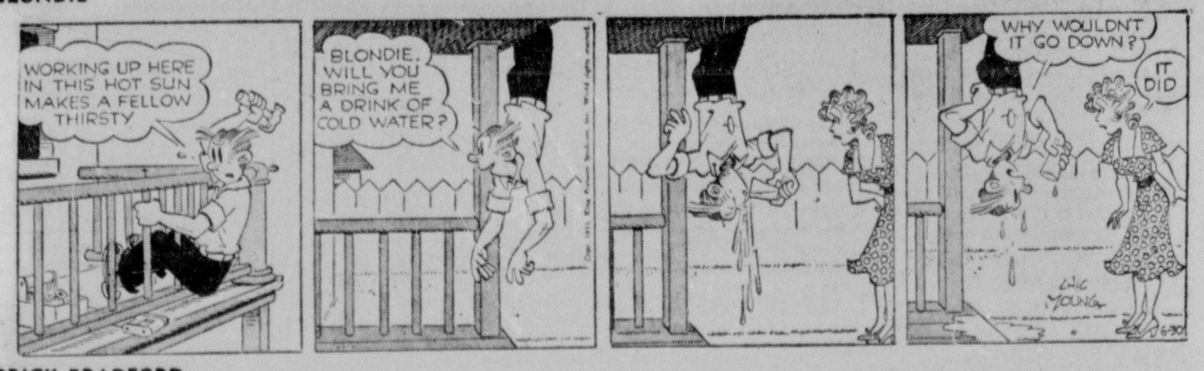

A Cryptogram Quotation

L R G E M R U P I B M P J R N S I I U L M G M C B U J D G L I C Y F W S E L S S Y R S G O S Y G Y B S G D E R ? — M R G H S M K S G D S.

Roeth Avenue Improvements Are Planned

City May Extend Camden Ave. Area

An ordinance serving notice for the introduction of an ordinance for the improvement of Roeth Avenue, from Piedmont Avenue to Holland Street, was passed by the Mayor and Council yesterday afternoon.

The actual ordinance providing for the paving, grading, curbing and sidewalks on the street will be introduced at the Mayor and Council on July 13 at 10 a. m.

Plans were also instituted yesterday for the improvement of Camden Avenue, from Hyland to Cochrane Streets, when the Mayor and Council concurred with the suggestion of Mrs. Lucile W. Roeder, street commissioner, that an ordinance be prepared for sewering the area.

The action followed the reading of a report of C. R. Nuzum, city engineer, on the request of several property owners for the work.

Recommends Opening

The area, Nuzum said, is covered with second growth timber and brush. He estimated it will cost $1,560 to open the street, install drains for surface water and lay a four inch stone base on the street.

Providing a sewer system for the street will cost another $3,315, since the area is underlain with sand rock.

Nuzum recommended that the street be opened in view of the fact that the work would open up desirable building lots.

Cost of the sewer line would be assessed to the property owners, and the city would bear the cost of opening up the street.

The Mayor and Council also accepted a report submitted by Nuzum which recommended that steps be taken toward the closing of Smith Street extended, as requested by the Potomac Edison Company.

The firm, on June 15, asked the closing of the 14 foot paved street between Lowell Place and Milton Place.

May Close Street

The land along the east and west boundaries of the street is owned by the PE, Nuzum said, and provided ingress and egress for its garage facilities. He added, however, that the Charles A. Larger estate has title to a six foot easement in the area, and that Thomas Lohr Richards, trustee for the estate, has objected to the closing of the alley.

He recommended favorable action by the city if the PE satisfies all rights for the following reasons:

The street only serves the Potomac Edison property, since it is blocked at the north end; the PE has agreed to assume responsibility for correcting a drainage situation which would cost the city $1,000, and as it exists now, the street is a traffic hazard since it is a dead end for motorists.

Thomas B. Finan, city attorney, suggested that an ordinance would have to be prepared, providing for the appointment of commissioners to assess the damage which would result from closing the street.

Jaycees To Fete Pageant Entries

Participants in the "Miss Western Maryland" beauty pageant will be guests at a dinner meeting of the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce tomorrow at 6:30 p. m. at All Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Guests will include Miss Carolyn Deck, this city, chosen "Miss Western Maryland"; Miss Elma Gail Jones, Midland, and Miss Winifred Louise LaRue, Pinto, runners-up; and Miss Shirley Grant and Miss Sarah Jeanne Kenner, both of Westernport, and Miss Barbara Ella Haywood, McCoole.

Also to be feted tomorrow night will be Winfield H. Adam, secretary at Central YMCA, master of ceremonies at the contest; Kenneth McGraw, who sang at the pageant, and Dean Hancox, pianist for the event.

Weather

Hot, humid weather continued in the Cumberland area yesterday, and forecasters predict no let up in the warm spell. The Weather Bureau says continued warm today with scattered thundershowers this afternoon. The same is expected for tomorrow. High temperature was 92 degrees in Cumberland according to Constitution Park weather station; low was 69, and at 9 p. m. mercury stood at 82. Humidity at 6 p. m. was a damp 60 per cent. Unofficial temperatures west of here were in the high 70's or low 80's yesterday, while east of Cumberland thermometers leveled in the 90's.

Water Heater Explodes

Central firemen were called to the home of McClellan Kifer, 612 North Mechanic Street, at 5:24 a. m. yesterday when a hot-water heater exploded.

Firemen said there was no blaze, and that damage was confined to the gas-operated heater. No one was injured.

Hourly Paid Staff Of City To Get Holiday On Friday

Hourly paid workers of the city will get a holiday Friday since the Fourth of July falls on Saturday this year.

A similar day off was given for Decoration Day last month.

An order passed by the Mayor and Council several years ago provides that all hourly paid workers will receive six paid holidays.

Since the order did not specify what would happen when a holiday falls on a day on which work is not scheduled, the alternative would be to pay for a six-day week.

Salaried workers will be on duty at City Hall as usual Friday.

City Will Not Buy Summit Avenue Lots

Accepting an offer of City Engineer C. R. Nuzum, the Mayor and Council yesterday declined to purchase four lots on Summit Avenue from Sidney D. Phillips.

Phillips first offered to sell the lots to the city for $500 and last week cut his price in half.

Nuzum said the lots were of no use to the city for the future development of Constitution Park, due to their location on a steep hillside. He added the lots were underlaid with a good grade of shale but recommended against the purchase since the city has plenty of shale available at the city airport for its street surfacing needs.

Water Commissioner William J. Edwards moved that the report be accepted and unanimous approval followed seconding by Street Commissioner Mrs. Lucile W. Roeder.

City To Cooperate In Soap Box Derby

The Mayor and Council yesterday granted permission for the use of Pennsylvania Avenue on July 10 and 11 in connection with the 6th annual Soap Box Derby.

J. Suder Kegg, director, said the street will be needed the afternoon of July 10 for trial runs of the course and on Saturday, July 11, beginning at 1 p. m. for the Derby.

He said the Police Department has previously blocked off the area from Second to Fifth Street, but asked that Laing Avenue also be included for safety reasons.

Whisner Is Named Meter Inspector

Harry M. Whisner was appointed parking meter inspector by the Mayor and Council yesterday at a salary of $241.45 a month.

Whisner will succeed William H. Buley, who will retire from the post on July 1. His appointment is subject to furnishing a $5,000 bond.

Council Will Meet With Zoning Board

The Mayor and Council will meet with the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission soon to discuss four changes in the zoning laws recommended by the commission.

The time for the meeting will be arranged following next Monday's council meeting.

Mayor Roy W. Eves pointed out the Mayor and Council should confer with the commission, to learn upon what the recommendations are based.

Police Commissioner John J. Long said the meeting is a good idea. He said he has received complaints on the plan and would like to represent the people.

City Seeks Meeting For New Switchboard

City officials agreed yesterday to request a meeting with C & P Telephone Company officials on a company proposal for installation of a switchboard for city buildings.

Mrs. Lucile W. Roeder, street commissioner, moved that the meeting be held and unanimous action followed a second by Police Commissioner John J. Long.

Powers Buys Home On Washington Street

Marion T. Powers, sales manager of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, and his wife, Eloise N. Powers, have purchased a new home at 649 Washington Street, according to a deed filed for record yesterday in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

The property was purchased from Marie K. Holzshu. The Powers formerly lived at 505 Washington Street.

City Aids SRC On Land Needed For Belt Route

The Mayor and Council yesterday authorized the payment of $750 to Richard C. Simmons for three lots on the South View addition in South Cumberland in connection with plans for the Industrial Highway.

The State Roads Commission will reimburse the city for the transaction.

The lots, officials said, will be exchanged for a triangle of land on Montreal Avenue, upon which a local man had planned to place a home.

The SRC asked the city to cooperate in thep lan after it was learned the location of the home in that spot would interfere with plans for the route.

Thomas B. Finan, city attorney explained the history of the purchase, saying the SRC will reimburse the city for the lots.

But he pointed out that the SRC wants a conference with the city on the land acquisition issue before construction of the road begins.

The SRC, he said, feels the city should acquire all of the property within the city limits, as is the usual practice, but is willing to reimburse the city for this particular parcel.

Two Injured As Car Overturns

Two persons were slightly injured when the car in which they were riding knocked down a utility pole and overturned at Knapps Meadow early Sunday, just 15 minutes after the driver had received a speeding ticket.

State Police Trooper First Class Harry S. Bosley said he had given a ticket to Robert D. Kirby, 23, of Maple Street, Frostburg, at about 12:15 a. m.

Bosley said he had followed Kirby from Moscow to Pekin at about 70 miles an hour before he overtook the 1950-model car and gave Kirby a summons on a charge of exceeding 50 miles an hour.

Bosley said he followed Kirby to the edge of Lonaconing, then turned off to go after another car. A few minutes later, he received a radio call ordering him to investigate an accident at Knapps Meadow.

The trooper said he found that the Kirby car had knocked down a power pole, careened off the highway and turned end over end in a field. Kirby and an unidentified young woman who was a passenger in the car escaped with bruises. A Frostburg physician treated them.

The car was demolished, but Bosley said no second charge was filed.

Farmer Found Dead At Bridge

Hardy County Prosecuting Attorney W. D. McCauley last night said there would be no inquest into the death of a 65-year-old man who was found lying near a bridge at Moorefield, W. Va., Sunday morning.

The dead man, Sylvanus Carr, is believed to have had a heart attack. McCauley said no autopsy had been scheduled, since there was "no evidence of any foul play."

A lumber mill worker found Carr's body lying at the foot of a small embankment at the approach to the bridge over the south fork of the South Branch Potomac River.

Dr. M. H. Maxwell, who examined the body, said death could have resulted from any of several natural causes. Carr is survived by his widow and several children.

Webster Ends First Year As Superintendent Over Allegany County Schools

By ALBERT D. DARBY

Ralph R. Webster today winds up his first year as superintendent of Allegany County public schools, a year which he has termed "challenging and interesting."

It was on July 1, 1952, a year ago tomorrow, that the former Allegany High School principal stepped into the shoes of Charles L. Kopp, who had been superintendent for 24 years, longer than any other man in the history of public education here.

Building Stressed

Much of Webster's time in the past 12 months has been devoted to building problems as the county expands and continues to improve its facilities for education.

When he stepped in as superintendent the new Mt. Savage High School was just about complete. The new superintendent did have to contract for a sewage disposal plant, see that all furniture and equipment was installed properly and a thousand and one other finishing touches.

The county's other big new high school, now termed Valley High School, at the southern limits of Lonaconing, was about halfway finished. Besides seeing that this new junior-senior high school was completed, Webster also had to approve contracts for supplying necessary equipment for the building. It will be occupied for the first time in September.

Four New Projects

During Webster's first year as superintendent, contracts for four smaller school construction jobs were let. These included a new Ellerslie Elementary School, a new agriculture shop at Flintstone High School, additional rooms and auditorium at McCoole Elementary School and a new Lincoln Elementary School for Negroes at Frostburg.

The last two construction jobs, contracts for which were let just two weeks ago, are the first two projects in the county's new $3,500,000 nine-point school construction program.

Last winter, Webster drew up a proposed 14-point $6,000,000 school construction program and submitted it to the county delegation in the General Assembly then sitting in Annapolis.

Compromise Results

When the Allegany County Board of Commissioners protested that the $6,000,000 program would cause an overwhelming burden on the county's taxpayer, the compromise $3,500,000 program emerged from a meeting in Annapolis attended by the commissioners, school officials and the county delegation.

Next in line in the school construction program is a new addition at Flintstone High School which will include classrooms, an

Council Votes For Morning Sessions Here

With Street Commissioner Mrs. Lucile W. Roeder dissenting, the Mayor and Council yesterday voted to hold its weekly meetings on Monday at 10 a. m. in the Council Chamber, beginning next week.

The meetings have been held at 2 p. m. since early in April.

Finance Commissioner William V. Keegan moved for the passage of the order which was seconded by Water Commissoner William J. Edwards.

Keegan explained he had agreed to the change of time for a trial period only and said he could not see the afternoon hour had helped.

But Mrs. Roeder said business reasons caused the change of hour in the first place and that the reasons still hold good.

The afternoon sessions, she added, gave commissioners time to take care of all department business in the morning and to be ready for the actual meeting, at which all regular city business must be transacted.

Mayor Roy W. Eves pointed out that the schedule could be changed back to the afternoon in the fall.

Prior to the session, Keegan told Mrs. Roeder the change was being made "because of the weather."

Edwards commented he would like to see the meetings in the morning during the summer months.

Guard Training Is Stepped Up

A. P. HILL MILITARY RESERVATION, Va., June 29 (AP) — The sharp crack of rifle fire and rumble of tanks echoed throughout the vast military reservation today as the 29th Infantry Division went into training in earnest.

Three regiments and tank companies officially began their two week's encampment with field firing.

The 115th, 116th and 175th Infantry Regiments performed individual firing while the 197 Heavy Tank Battalion of Moundsville, W. Va., indulged in firing for a command post exercise.

Meanwhile, division artillery headed for Camp Pickett for a sharpening-up session. Eight of the 29th liaison's planes will leave Wednesday to spot for division artillery.

Insect repellant and bug bombs were being used freely to ward off the trainee's old foe—the chigger. A plentiful supply of mosquito nets has prevented much irritation from another pesky insect family.

The 29th is composed of units from Virginia, West Virginia and Maryland. It annually undergoes two weeks of summer training.

Three Servicemen Due In New York Thursday

Two Cumberland soldiers and a Lonaconing serviceman, who were stationed in Korea, are among 31 Maryland men due to arrive in New York Thursday aboard the transport General Sturgis.

They are Pfc. Joseph C. Evans, 524 Frank's Lane; Pfc. D. B. Rice, 109 Wills Creek Avenue; and Cpl. C. J. Buckholtz, of Lonaconing.

Virginian Held In Check Case

A hotel manager yesterday told police that a man who was arrested after he tried to cash a check at a local store already had bilked the hotel for $50 on a worthless check.

The alleged check artist was identified as Robert Sadler, 49, of Fairfax, Va. He was arrested Saturday afternoon by Detective Lt. James E. Van after officials of Rosenbaum's Store said he had tried to cash a $50 check there. They became suspicious and called police.

Sadler was still in jail yesterday when Robert Blair, manager of the Fort Cumberland Hotel, said his hotel had cashed a $50 check for Sadler.

County Investigator Edwin R. Lilya said the First National Bank of Alexandria, Va., on which both checks were drawn, reported that Sadler's account there had been closed.

Detective Leo E. P. Law said Sadler was carrying nearly $100 on his person when he was arrested Saturday. He was transferred to County Jail yesterday.

City Bike Riders Must Have New Tags Tomorrow

A record shipment of bicycle license tags has been ordered for issuance beginning tomorrow, Police Chief R. Emmett Flynn announced last night.

The old tags expire at midnight tonight, and new ones can be obtained at Police Headquarters starting tomorrow at 9 a. m. Mrs. Carolyn Y. Welsh, Police Department stenographer, will be in charge of issuing the tags.

Licenses may be obtained from 9 a. m. to noon and from 1 p. m. to 4 p. m. each weekday. The practice of issuing tags for residents of various sections of the city only on certain days has been abandoned.

Chief Flynn said his department ordered 1,800 of the new black-and-orange tags, similar to those used on Maryland cars this year. They replace the old black-and-white tags, and still sell for 25 cents.

Last year, police ran out of tags twice after issuing some 1,600. This year's order is the biggest ever placed Flynn said.

Chief Flynn warned that permits will not be granted unless bicycles are equipped with the proper warning device, and the brakes are in first class condition. Adequate lights must be mounted on the front and rear of bikes for night riding.

He advised operators not to have serial numbers covered with paint which hampers inspectors in their work. The name or make of the bike is also required.

Failure to apply for bike tags may result in impounding bicycles for from 30 to 60 days, he said, adding that siren whistles, double riding, maneuvering on sidewalks and violation of other rules will not be tolerated.

Cumberland was one of the first cities in the United States to enact an ordinance for regulating bikes and having operators registered by the tag system. The method aids in promoting safety and recovering stolen bicycles.

Welsh To Head Exchange Club

Blair V. Welsh will be installed as new president of the Cumberland Exchange Club during a dinner and dance tonight at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

The installing officer will be D. Ernest Mathews of Salisbury, district Exchange Club governor for Maryland and the District of Columbia.

Others to be installed are Russell Shafer, vice-president; Stanley J. Demski, secretary; George W. Landis, treasurer; John M. Robb, John Mertens and Richard Cook, board of control. The retiring president is Nathan W. Hauger.

The evening's activities will begin at 6:30 o'clock with a cocktail party on the veranda at the club. Miss Jean Ann Snyder, an accordionist, will provide music during the cocktail party. Art Shafer and his orchestra will play for the dance following the dinner.

Storer Resigns Job To Join State Police

Robert Storer, 443 Columbia Street, painter helper in the Cumberland Police Department since May 1, has resigned, according to Chief R. Emmett Flynn, and has accepted a position with the Maryland State Police.

To become a trooper, Storer will receive six months' training at MSP headquarters in Pikesville.

Divorce Granted

Geraldine B. Largent was granted a divorce yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court from Jack Largent and was awarded custody of their minor children.

Five Per Cent Tax Discount Deadline Arrives Tonight

Today is the last day in which county taxpayers will be entitled to a five per cent discount on county and state real estate taxes.

Meanwhile, Tax Collector Ernest B. Treat at the Court House estimates that his office has collected some $1,600,000 since sending out some 20,000 bills late in May. He figures total tax collections will hit the neighborhood of $2,000,000.

Other collectors at Frostburg and Lonaconing also are receiving collections.

During June a five per cent discount is allowed. Treat's office will be open from 9 a. m. until 4 p. m. Mailed payments postmarked before midnight tonight also will be allowed the five per cent discount. In July the discount drops to four per cent.

Cumberland Horse Show Set September 4-7

The Cumberland Horse Show sponsored annually by the Cumberland Lions Club this year has been scheduled for September 4, 5, 6 and 7 at Fairgo.

Lawrence A. Clopper, chairman of the event, said this year's show will be larger and more elaborate than ever. There will be six sessions instead of four as last year.

Also added to the program are numerous classes for children, Clopper said. As in the past, the show is expected to draw entries from nearby states as well as locally.

Net proceeds from receipts of the show will be given to the Allegany League for Crippled Children and used by the Lions Club in connection with their work with underprivileged blind children.

The club's work includes eye examinations, purchase of eye glasses, contributions to the Overlea School for the Blind, for the welfare of needy students from Allegany County and other worthy projects.

The show, as in the past, will feature saddle horse divisions, both three-gaited and five-gaited horses; the three-gaited horses with a plucked mane and tail, with the three gaits of walk, trot and canter.

There will be entries for the five-gaited horse division in which the animal is shown with a full mane, tail and forelock and besides doing the three natural gaits, is required to do two more, the slow gait and the rack.

A popular phase of the show will be the fine harness horse which are shown with full mane and tail and a light, airy, graceful trot. It is shown to a four-wheeled vehicle.

Other classes include the combination class, the walking horse, the roadster, equitation classes, amateur classes, jumpers and hunters.

Co-Chairman of the event with Clopper is Robert F. Gerson.

Doctors Rap Cut In Medical Care

TOWSON, Md., June 29 (AP)—The Baltimore County Medical Association said today in a critical statement that the State Board of Health could cut fees paid doctors instead of reducing the number of needy people getting free medical care.

The General Assembly cut by $50,000 the money alloted for the medical treatment of needy persons in Maryland counties. To offset this cut, the board set up quotas and estimated about 2,000 persons would be trimmed from the medically indigent rolls.

A spokesman said this was done rather than reduce fees the state pays to physicians because they already were giving their services at reduced rates.

A statement today by the attorney for the association said: "The attitude and feelings of the doctors of Baltimore County have been deliberately ignored and distorted at the expense of the reputation of the medical profession."

The statement by the county association said its purpose was to prevent the public from being "misled to believe its members were unwilling to absorb" a cut in fees.

New Rotary Leaders Will Assume Office

Lewyn C. Davis, supervisor of junior high schools in the Allegany County public school system, will accept the gavel from James L. Weber, his predecessor, and assume his duties as president of the Cumberland Rotary Club at the luncheon meeting at Central YMCA today.

Others taking office with Davis are F. Perry Smith Jr., vice-president; Edward L. Ewald, treasurer; Roy W. Eves, secretary, and Thomas H. Brown, sergeant-at-arms. Directors include Weber, William T. Fridinger, J. Kenneth Morgan, Smith, Wilton Sykes, Simon Rosenbaum II, Robert E. Barnard Jr., F. T. Bell, Robert W. Brown and Davis.

Water consumption averaged 13,494,000 gallons a day last week, up from last year's 11,928,000. The level of water in Lake Gordon was about six inches below the crest but about an inch of water was spilling over Lake Koon.

Parking meter receipts totaled $566.77 the week of June 21, down $25.63 from the previous week.

Senate Cloakroom

by Sen. J. Glenn Beall

During the last 50 years the United States has appropriated $45,568,800 flood control projects and improvements to Maryland's rivers and harbors.

So far, this session of Congress has approved the sum of $1,875,000 for such work in the 1954 fiscal year — differences between the House and Senate action will send the bill to a conference committee, where it is anticipated the House will concede to the amounts approved by the Senate.

Maryland, with its large coast line on the Atlantic Ocean and the Chesapeake Bay, and numerous streams and tidal estuaries, has many small harbors for pleasure craft and fishing boats.

Our long coast line makes it necessary that we secure more money for maintenance and improvement of our rivers and harbors than the inland states, and our Western Maryland streams, such as the Potomac, make it necessary for flood control projects.

The $1,875,000 approved by the Senate subcommittee on Army Civil Functions for 1954 is for work on the following projects.

Baltimore City Harbor Improvements	$425,000
Cumberland Flood Control	$950,000
Anacostia River Flood Control	$500,000

(Bladensburg Peace Cross)

The Baltimore Harbor work was authorized in 1936, and later legislation provided for a 39-foot channel, and also for continuing maintenance projects for collection and removal of drift.

In 1936 Congress also authorized the flood protection project for Cumberland and Ridgeley, W. Va.; included was the Savage River Dam which was recently completed. The entire estimated cost of the flood control work is $14,738,100, of which $4,889,200 has been appropriated so far.

The $500,000 approved for flood control work in the Anacostia River Basin is the first construction money authorized for the Bladensburg, Hyattsville, and Riverdale areas.

This project is unusual in that the state and local governments are sharing in the cost. Maryland has authorized $4,250,000 for this work, which is estimated to cost $7,553,000.

This area, just across the District line, has suffered from flash floods for a number of years, and motor traffic is frequently inconvenienced by floods which make Routes 1 and 50 impassable.

The U. S. Army Engineers state that they will be able to begin construction as soon as the federal funds are available, and it is estimated that Maryland will spend over $2,000,000 to the federal government's $500,000 during the 1954 fiscal year.

Roeth Avenue Improvements Are Planned

City May Extend Camden Ave. Area

An ordinance serving notice for the introduction of an ordinance for the improvement of Roeth Avenue, from Piedmont Avenue to Holland Street, was passed by the Mayor and Council yesterday afternoon.

The actual ordinance providing for the paving, grading, curbing and sidewalks on the street will be introduced at a meeting of the Mayor and Council on July 13 at 10 a. m.

Plans were also instituted yesterday for the improvement of Camden Avenue, from Hyland to Cochrane Streets, when the Mayor and Council concurred with the suggestion of Mrs. Lucile W. Roeder, street commissioner, that an ordinance be prepared for sewering the area.

The action followed the reading of a report of C. R. Nuzum, city engineer, on the request of several property owners for the work.

Recommends Opening

The area, Nuzum said, is covered with second growth timber and brush. He estimated it will cost $1,560 to open the street, install drains for surface water and lay a four inch stone base on the street.

Providing a sewer system for the street will cost another $3,315, since the area is underlain with sand rock.

Nuzum recommended that the street be opened in view of the fact that the work would open up desirable building lots.

Cost of the sewer line would be assessed to the property owners, and the city would bear the cost of opening up the street.

The Mayor and Council also accepted a report submitted by Nuzum which recommended that steps be taken toward the closing of Smith Street extended, as requested by the Potomac Edison Company.

The firm, on June 15, asked the closing of the 14 foot paved street between Lowell Place and Milton Place.

May Close Street

The land along the east and west boundaries of the street is owned by the PE, Nuzum said, and provided ingress and egress for its garage facilities. He added, however, that the Charles A. Larger estate has title to a six foot easement in the area, and that Thomas Lohr Richards, trustee for the estate, has objected to the closing of the alley.

He recommended favorable action by the city if the PE satisfies all rights for the following reasons:

The street only serves the Potomac Edison property, since it is blocked at the north end; the PE has agreed to assume responsibility for correcting a drainage situation which would cost the city $1,000, and as it exists now, the street is a traffic hazard since it is a dead end for motorists.

Thomas B. Finan, city attorney, suggested that an ordinance would have to be prepared, providing for the appointment of commissioners to assess the damage which would result from closing the street.

Jaycees To Fete Pageant Entries

Participants in the "Miss Western Maryland" beauty pageant will be guests at a dinner meeting of the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce tomorrow at 6:30 p. m. at All Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Guests will include Miss Carolyn Deck, this city, chosen "Miss Western Maryland"; Miss Elma Gail Jones, Midland, and Miss Winifred Louise LaRue, Pinto, runners-up; and Miss Shirley Grant and Miss Sarah Jeanne Kenner, both of Westernport, and Miss Barbara Ella Haywood, McCoole.

Also to be feted tomorrow night will be Winfield H. Adam, secretary at Central YMCA, master of ceremonies at the contest; Kenneth McGraw, who sang at the pageant, and Dean Hancox, pianist for the event.

Weather

Hot, humid weather continued in the Cumberland area yesterday, and forecasters predict no let up in the warm spell. The Weather Bureau says continued warm today with scattered thundershowers this afternoon. The same is expected for tomorrow. High temperature was 92 degrees in Cumberland according to Constitution Park weather station; low was 69, and at 9 p. m. mercury stood at 82. Humidity at 6 p. m. was a damp 60 per cent. Unofficial temperatures west of here were in the high 70's or low 80's yesterday, while east of Cumberland thermometers leveled in the 90's.

Water Heater Explodes

Central firemen were called to the home of McClellan Kifer, 612 North Mechanic Street, at 5:24 a. m. yesterday when a hot-water heater exploded.

Firemen said there was no blaze, and that damage was confined to the gas-operated heater. No one was injured.

Hourly Paid Staff Of City To Get Holiday On Friday

Hourly paid workers of the city will get a holiday Friday since the Fourth of July falls on Saturday this year.

A similar day off was given for Decoration Day last month.

An order passed by the Mayor and Council several years ago provides that all hourly paid workers will receive six paid holidays.

Since the order did not specify what would happen when a holiday falls on a day on which work is not scheduled, the alternative would be to pay for a six-day week.

Salaried workers will be on duty at City Hall as usual Friday.

City Will Not Buy Summit Avenue Lots

Accepting an offer of City Engineer C. R. Nuzum, the Mayor and Council yesterday declined to purchase four lots on Summit Avenue from Sidney D. Phillips.

Phillips first offered to sell the lots to the city for $500 and last week cut his price in half.

Nuzum said the lots were of no use to the city for the future development of Constitution Park, due to their location on a steep hillside. He added the lots were underlaid with a good grade of shale but recommended against the purchase since the city has plenty of shale available at the city airport for its street surfacing needs.

Water Commissioner William J. Edwards moved that the report be accepted and unanimous approval followed seconding by Street Commissioner Mrs. Lucile W. Roeder.

City To Cooperate In Soap Box Derby

The Mayor and Council yesterday granted permission for the use of Pennsylvania Avenue on July 10 and 11 in connection with the 6th annual Soap Box Derby.

J. Suder Kegg, director, said the street will be needed the afternoon of July 10 for trial runs of the course and on Saturday, July 11, beginning at 1 p. m. for the Derby.

He said the Police Department has previously blocked off the area from Second to Fifth Street, but asked that Laing Avenue also be included for safety reasons.

Whisner Is Named Meter Inspector

Harry M. Whisner was appointed parking meter inspector by the Mayor and Council yesterday at a salary of $241.45 a month.

Whisner will succeed William H. Buley, who will retire from the post on July 1. His appointment is subject to furnishing a $5,000 bond.

Council Will Meet With Zoning Board

The Mayor and Council will meet with the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission soon to discuss four changes in the zoning laws recommended by the commission.

The time for the meeting will be arranged following next Monday's council meeting.

Mayor Roy W. Eves pointed out the Mayor and Council should confer with the commission, to learn upon what the recommendations are based.

Police Commissioner John J. Long said the meeting is a good idea. He said he has received complaints on the plan and would like to represent the people.

City Seeks Meeting For New Switchboard

City officials agreed yesterday to request a meeting with C & P Telephone Company officials on a company proposal for installation of a switchboard for city buildings.

Mrs. Lucile W. Roeder, street commissioner, moved that the meeting be held and unanimous action followed a second by Police Commissioner John J. Long.

Powers Buys Home On Washington Street

Marion T. Powers, sales manager of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, and his wife, Eloise N. Powers, have purchased a new home at 649 Washington Street, according to a deed filed for record yesterday in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

The property was purchased from Marie K. Holzshu. The Powers formerly lived at 505 Washington Street.

City Aids SRC On Land Needed For Belt Route

The Mayor and Council yesterday authorized the payment of $750 to Richard C. Simmons for three lots on the South View addition in South Cumberland in connection with plans for the Industrial Highway.

The State Roads Commission will reimburse the city for the transaction.

The lots, officials said, will be exchanged for a triangle of land on Montreal Avenue, upon which a local man had planned to place a home.

The SRC asked the city to cooperate in thep lan after it was learned the location of the home in that spot would interfere with plans for the route.

Thomas B. Finan, city attorney explained the history of the purchase, saying the SRC will reimburse the city for the lots.

But he pointed out that the SRC wants a conference with the city on the land acquisition issue before construction of the road begins.

The SRC, he said, feels the city should acquire all of the property within the city limits, as is the usual practice, but is willing to reimburse the city for this particular parcel.

Two Injured As Car Overturns

Two persons were slightly injured when the car in which they were riding knocked down a utility pole and overturned at Knapps Meadow early Sunday, just 15 minutes after the driver had received a speeding ticket.

State Police Trooper First Class Harry S. Bosley said he had given a ticket to Robert D. Kirby, 23, of Maple Street, Frostburg, at about 12:15 a. m.

Bosley said he had followed Kirby from Moscow to Pekin at about 70 miles an hour before he overtook the 1950-model car and gave Kirby a summons on a charge of exceeding 50 miles an hour.

Bosley said he followed Kirby to the edge of Lonaconing, then turned off to go after another car. A few minutes later, he received a radio call ordering him to investigate an accident at Knapps Meadow.

The trooper said he found that the Kirby car had knocked down a power pole, careened off the highway and turned end over end in a field. Kirby and an unidentified young woman who was a passenger in the car escaped with bruises. A Frostburg physician treated them.

The car was demolished, but Bosley said no second charge was filed.

Farmer Found Dead At Bridge

Hardy County Prosecuting Attorney W. D. McCauley last night said there would be no inquest into the death of a 65-year-old man who was found lying near a bridge at Moorefield, W. Va., Sunday morning.

The dead man, Sylvanus Carr, is believed to have had a heart attack. McCauley said no autopsy had been scheduled, since there was "no evidence of any foul play."

A lumber mill worker found Carr's body lying at the foot of a small embankment at the approach to the bridge over the south fork of the South Branch Potomac River.

Dr. M. H. Maxwell, who examined the body, said death could have resulted from any of several natural causes. Carr is survived by his widow and several children.

Webster Ends First Year As Superintendent Over Allegany County Schools

By ALBERT D. DARBY

Ralph R. Webster today winds up his first year as superintendent of Allegany County public schools, a year which he has termed "challenging and interesting."

It was on July 1, 1952, a year ago tomorrow, that the former Allegany High School principal stepped into the shoes of Charles L. Kopp, who had been superintendent for 24 years, longer than any other man in the history of public education here.

Building Stressed

Much of Webster's time in the past 12 months has been devoted to building problems as the county expands and continues to improve its facilities for education.

When he stepped in as superintendent the new Mt. Savage High School was just about complete. The new superintendent did have to contract for a sewage disposal plant, see that all furniture and equipment was installed properly and a thousand and one other finishing touches.

The county's other big new high school, now termed Valley High School, at the southern limits of Lonaconing, was about halfway finished. Besides seeing that this new junior-senior high school was completed, Webster also had to approve contracts for supplying necessary equipment for the building. It will be occupied for the first time in September.

Four New Projects

During Webster's first year as superintendent, contracts for four smaller school construction jobs were let. These included a new Ellerslie Elementary School, a new agriculture shop at Flintstone High School, additional rooms and auditorium at McCoole Elementary School and a new Lincoln Elementary School for Negroes at Frostburg.

The last two construction jobs, contracts for which were let just two weeks ago, are the first two projects in the county's new $3,500,000 nine-point school construction program.

Last winter, Webster drew up a proposed 14-point $6,000,000 school construction program and submitted it to the county delegation in the General Assembly then sitting in Annapolis.

Compromise Results

When the Allegany County Board of Commissioners protested that the $6,000,000 program would cause an overwhelming burden on the county's taxpayer, the compromise $3,500,000 program emerged from a meeting in Annapolis attended by the commissioners, school officials and the county delegation.

Next in line in the school construction program is a new addition at Flintstone High School which will include classrooms, an

Council Votes For Morning Sessions Here

With Street Commissioner Mrs. Lucile W. Roeder dissenting, the Mayor and Council yesterday voted to hold its weekly meetings on Monday at 10 a. m. in the Council Chamber, beginning next week.

The meetings have been held at 2 p. m. since early in April.

Finance Commissioner William V. Keegan moved for the passage of the order which was seconded by Water Commissoner William J. Edwards.

Keegan explained he had agreed to the change of time for a trial period only and said he could not see the afternoon hour had helped.

But Mrs. Roeder said business reasons caused the change of hour in the first place and that the reasons still hold good.

The afternoon sessions, she added, gave commissioners time to take care of all department business in the morning and to be ready for the actual meeting, at which all regular city business must be transacted.

Mayor Roy W. Eves pointed out that the schedule could be changed back to the afternoon in the fall.

Prior to the session, Keegan told Mrs. Roeder the change was being made "because of the weather."

Edwards commented he would like to see the meetings in the morning during the summer months.

Guard Training Is Stepped Up

A. P. HILL MILITARY RESERVATION, Va., June 29 (AP) — The sharp crack of rifle fire and rumble of tanks echoed throughout the vast military reservation today as the 29th Infantry Division went into training in earnest.

Three regiments and tank companies officially began their two week's encampment with field firing.

The 115th, 116th and 175th Infantry Regiments performed individual firing while the 197 Heavy Tank Battalion of Moundsville, W. Va., indulged in firing for a command post exercise.

Meanwhile, division artillery headed for Camp Pickett for a sharpening-up session. Eight of the 29th liaison's planes will leave Wednesday to spot for division artillery.

Insect repellant and bug bombs were being used freely to ward off the trainee's old foe—the chigger. A plentiful supply of mosquito nets has prevented much irritation from another pesky insect family.

The 29th is composed of units from Virginia, West Virginia and Maryland. It annually undergoes two weeks of summer training.

Virginian Held In Check Case

A hotel manager yesterday told police that a man who was arrested after he tried to cash a check at a local store already had bilked the hotel for $50 on a worthless check.

The alleged check artist was identified as Robert Sadler, 49, of Fairfax, Va. He was arrested Saturday afternoon by Detective Lt. James E. Van after officials of Rosenbaum's Store said he had tried to cash a $50 check there. They became suspicious and called police.

Sadler was still in jail yesterday when Robert Blair, manager of the Fort Cumberland Hotel, said his hotel had cashed a $50 check for Sadler.

County Investigator Edwin R. Lilya said the First National Bank of Alexandria, Va., on which both checks were drawn, reported that Sadler's account there had been closed.

Detective Leo E. P. Law said Sadler was carryi ng nearly $100 on his person when he was arrested Saturday. He was transferred to County Jail yesterday.

City Bike Riders Must Have New Tags Tomorrow

A record shipment of bicycle license tags has been ordered for issuance beginning tomorrow, Police Chief R. Emmett Flynn announced last night.

The old tags expire at midnight tonight, and new ones can be obtained at Police Headquarters starting tomorrow at 9 a. m. Mrs. Carolyn Y. Welsh, Police Department stenographer, will be in charge of issuing the tags.

Licenses may be obtained from 9 a. m. to noon and from 1 p. m. to 4 p. m. each weekday. The practice of issuing tags for residents of various sections of the city only on certain days has been abandoned.

Chief Flynn said his department ordered 1,800 of the new black-and-orange tags, similar to those used on Maryland cars this year. They replace the old black-and-white tags, and still sell for 25 cents.

Last year, police ran out of tags twice after issuing some 1,600. This year's order is the biggest ever placed Flynn said.

Chief Flynn warned that permits will not be granted unless bicycles are equipped with the proper warning device, and the brakes are in first class condition. Adequate lights must be mounted on the front and rear of bikes for night riding.

He advised operators not to have serial numbers covered with paint which hampers inspectors in their work. The name or make of the bike is also required.

Failure to apply for bike tags may result in impounding bicycles for from 30 to 60 days, he said, adding that siren whistles, double riding, maneuvering on sidewalks and violation of other rules will not be tolerated.

Cumberland was one of the first cities in the United States to enact an ordinance for regulating bikes and having operators registered by the tag system. The method aids in promoting safety and recovering stolen bicycles.

Cumberland Horse Show Set September 4-7

The Cumberland Horse Show sponsored annually by the Cumberland Lions Club this year has been scheduled for September 4, 5, 6 and 7 at Fairgo.

Lawrence A. Clopper, chairman of the event, said this year's show will be larger and more elaborate than ever. There will be six sessions instead of four as last year.

Also added to the program are numerous classes for children, Clopper said. As in the past, the show is expected to draw entries from nearby states as well as locally.

Net proceeds from receipts of the show will be given to the Allegany League for Crippled Children and used by the Lions Club in connection with their work with underprivileged blind children.

The club's work includes eye examinations, purchase of eye glasses, contributions to the Overlea School for the Blind, for the welfare of needy students from Allegany County and other worthy projects.

The show, as in the past, will feature saddle horse divisions, both three-gaited and five-gaited horses; the three-gaited horses with a plucked mane and tail, with the three gaits of walk, trot and canter.

There will be entries for the five-gaited horse division in which the animal is shown with a full mane, tail and forelock and besides doing the three natural gaits, is required to do two more, the slow gait and the rack.

A popular phase of the show will be the fine harness horse which are shown with full mane and tail and a light, airy, graceful trot. It is shown to a four-wheeled vehicle.

Other classes include the combination class, the walking horse, the roadster, equitation classes, amateur classes, jumpers and hunters.

Co-Chairman of the event with Clopper is Robert F. Gerson.

Doctors Rap Cut In Medical Care

TOWSON, Md., June 29 (AP)—The Baltimore County Medical Association said today in a critical statement that the State Board of Health could cut fees paid doctors instead of reducing the number of needy people getting free medical care.

The General Assembly cut by $50,000 the money alloted for the medical treatment of needy persons in Maryland counties. To offset this cut, the board set up quotas and estimated about 2,000 persons would be trimmed from the medically indigent rolls.

A spokesman said this was done rather than reduce fees the state pays to physicians because they already were giving their services at reduced rates.

A statement today by the attorney for the association said: "The attitude and feelings of the doctors of Baltimore County have been deliberately ignored and distorted at the expense of the reputation of the medical profession."

The statement by the county association said its purpose was to prevent the public from being "misled to believe its members were unwilling to absorb" a cut in fees.
